—Message To Demo—

Dave Beck Hints Testimony Delay

McClellan Sees 'Reservation' In Union Chief's Plan To Co-Operate In Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said Monday he has a message from president Dave Beck of the Teamsters Union indicating "a measure of reservation" about how much co-operation Beck may give to Senate racket investigators.

McClellan said Beck, just back from Europe, sent him word by messenger that he plans to get a physical checkup and consult with tax attorneys before deciding "what materials or records he will submit" to the investigators.

McClellan is chairman of the Special Senate Committee conducting the inquiry into alleged racketeer infiltration of labor unions and industry. Asked by reporters whether the message satisfied him as to the degree of co-operation he may expect from Beck, McClellan replied:

"I took it there was a measure of reservation. I couldn't interpret it any other way." He also recorded this statement for a radio broadcast.

Curious

McClellan told reporters he would be highly curious if Beck's physicians recommend against his coming to Washington for questioning by the committee.

"In my opinion," he said, "Mr. Beck's travels abroad clearly indicate he can travel from Seattle to Washington. It would take some pretty strong evidence to refute that."

Meanwhile Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said Mayor Terry D. Schunk of Portland, Ore., had "balked at answering certain questions in a lie detector test" and the test was finally canceled.

Schuck had volunteered to take the test in an effort to back up his testimony. The mayor has denied the stories of several witnesses that, while Multnomah County sheriff in 1955, he accepted a $500 bribe to call off a raid on a gambling house.

'The Truth'

Schuck entered a room with U.S. Secret Service polygraph operators declaring:

"I have told the truth, and I'll tell it again in here. I just pray to God the machine tells the truth too."

McClellan said he still assumes that Beck will step forward as a voluntary witness and surrender the personal financial records the committee has asked of him, without being subpoenaed.

But he said "the committee is always prepared to issue a subpoena, and it is equally as prepared to issue a subpoena for Mr. Beck as for anyone else."

Probe Blasted

SEATTLE (AP) — Teamsters union president Dave Beck Monday criticized sharply the conduct of the Senate's special committee investigation of alleged labor racketeers, but said he would appear as a witness without awaiting a subpoena.

In his criticism of committee procedures, in a post-intelligence interview, Beck declared:

"It is my impression that the hearing in Washington is not at all in harmony with any judicial atmosphere. It is colored. It has all the semblance of political action, and I personally cannot understand giving credence to testimony by prostitutes, gamblers, narcotic agents — such as have been given testimony against our people in the Washington hearings."

Beck also charged the Secretary of Labor Mitchell's withdrawal of his credentials to the international labor organization convention in Europe was "in effect a prejudgment of me and it was politically inspired."

Bill Okayed To Allow Testing Prisoners At Mental Institute

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

Inmates from the state's three penal institutions will be able to receive psychiatric treatment at the Omaha Psychiatric Institute under a bill passed from committee Monday.

A public hearing before the Legislature's Public Health Committee found no opposition on the measure, LB 505.

As originally drawn, the Board of Control, jurisdictional agency for the state's 17 institutions, could order the temporary transfer of inmates to the Psychiatric Institute for treatment. This could only be done with concurrence of the warden or superintendents of the institutions involved.

Reformatory Included

An amendment to the bill included the Men's Reformatory. Previously only the Women's Reformatory and Penitentiary were involved.

Another bill sent to general file would increase the revolving fund for the Board of Control from $20,000 to $30,000 for services to the blind. Harry Hines, director of the blind services program, told the committee the fund is capable of being liquidated at any time.

The additional funds would make available the setting-up of four additional service stands selling cigarettes, candy bars, and other quick-sale items.

At present, there are six such stands. Many are located in U.S. post offices which make space available for blind or near-blind attendants. Four new stands would be made available with the increase in the revolving fund.

These would be located at Norfolk, North Platte, Sidney, and Scottsbluff, Hines said. Witnesses appearing for the inmate-transfer bill were Dr. J. P. Tollman, dean of the University of Nebraska Hospital at Omaha; Dr. Cecil Wittson, head of the Psychiatric Institute, and Harold Peterson, administrative assistant to the Board of Control.

Wittson said the inmate transfers would prevent duplication of present treatment they receive at the State Hospitals and would be "an advantage to the state."

Both bills heard before the committee were introduced by Sen. Donald F. McGinley of Ogallala.

In other committee action, LB 321 was indefinitely postponed. It would have authorized county attorneys to file an information before the county boards of mental health against sex offenders and setting out the board's procedures thereafter.

The bill was introduced by Sens. John Munnely of Omaha and William McHenry of Nelson.

Behrens Faces Charge, Not Wilfred Oelling In Valparaiso Incident

WAHOO, Neb. — Norman Behrens of Lincoln will be charged in Wahoo Justice of the Peace Court with operating an auto on an expired in-transit plate, County Attorney George W. Haessler said.

The filing will be made in connection with an incident at Valparaiso.

Driver of the car involved was not Wilfred Oelling of Lincoln, and he did not receive traffic summons as was reported previously by the authorities. The county attorney said Oelling was the owner of and a passenger in the auto.

State Patrolman Duane Hamann came upon the car within the town limits of Valparaiso following reports from the town that four youths had kidnapped a woman off the main street and were beating her up in a car.

Investigating authorities said the woman reported that she and her husband, both of Lincoln, were engaged in a "family argument."

She declined to prefer charges.

PROBE TOLD:

Secrets Getting Heavier

6 Billion Papers Barred; Pace Increasing

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Pentagon executive testified Monday the armed forces tagged some three million linear feet of documents secret during World War II and apparently have stepped up the pace in peacetime.

Charles A. Coolidge, a former assistant secretary of defense, told a Government Operations subcommittee of information there were about 2,000 documents, including originals and copies, per foot. That would multiply out to some six billion papers labelled secret in wartime.

"I am told," Coolidge said, "it is running at a higher rate today."

The subcommittee, headed by Rep. Moss (D-Calif.), is trying to get the government to release more information to the public. It renewed its inquiry into Defense Department information practices Monday by questioning Coolidge and four other members of a committee on classified information set up by Secretary of Defense Wilson.

Coolidge and all the other committee members agreed too much information is classified and too little is declassified after secrecy no longer is necessary. But they said there just aren't enough people and money to rummage through all the classified documents and determine which ones no longer need to be locked up.

'No Program'

There is "no real program" for dealing with declassification, Coolidge said.

Furthermore, he said, a great many documents shouldn't be made secret at all.

But he said classification is a matter of individual judgment and people are inclined to stamp a paper secret rather than non-secret when there is any doubt at all. He said it is a question of using better judgment and of "establishing more helpful guides in exercising that judgment."

"We saw no way to legislate into the people in charge of classification," Coolidge said, "and we couldn't think of any way in which Congress could help."

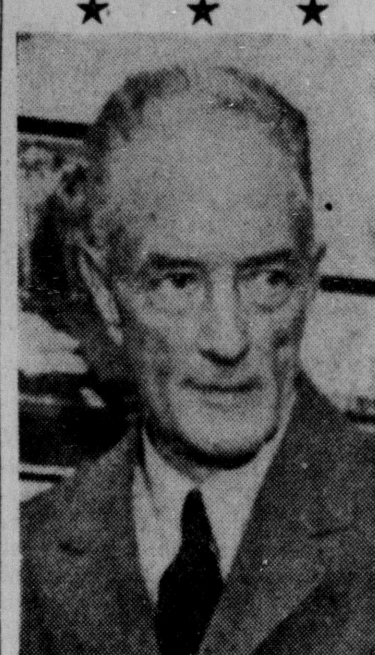

Clamp Down

Coolidge's committee recommended, after studying Pentagon information policies for a year, both an easing up on secrecy and a clamp down on leaks and information that should be kept secret for security reasons.

One suggestion was that when information "which obviously gravely damages the security of the nation" leaks to the press and the source can't be identified, then the author of the article should be "summoned to testify in a Grand Jury investigation."

Moss called that shocking, Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) disagreed. "Reporters and writers," Hoffman said, "never have had immunity or privilege such as that enjoyed by ministers, priests or lawyers."

And, he said, he can see no reason why they should have.

ADM. RICHARD E. BYRD ... overwork and heart ailment bring death at 68

Retired Admiral Was First To Fly Over Both Poles

He Paved Way For Possible U.S. Claim To Third Of Antarctic

CHARTED VAST AREAS OF WORLD

BOSTON (AP) — Retired Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, USN, 68, the first man to fly over the North and South Poles, died peacefully in his sleep Monday night at his Brimmer Street home.

His wife and four children were at his bedside when he passed away at 6:20 p.m. (EST). His death was attributed to a heart ailment brought on by overwork in connection with his many activities.

The family said that he had worked without a holiday for three years and only recently was able to get any rest. Although he had kept up his work in connection with the United States Antarctic programs of which he was officer in charge, he gradually weakened and finally his heart failed.

His son, Navy Lt. Richard E. Byrd Jr., said that although his father had been in ill health, his death "came as a blow because he was talking by phone with Sherman Adams (presidential aide) and my uncle (Sen. Harry F. Byrd) as late as Feb. 28. Recently he had been sending out messages to friends."

The pioneering air explorer, who had been named over-all head of the Navy's huge Operation Deepfreeze in Antarctica, had been ailing with a heart condition several months.

The affliction prevented his assuming on-the-spot supervision of the polar expedition in this International Geophysical Year.

Byrd was decorated Feb. 21 with the Defense Department's Medal of Freedom. The presentation was done quietly by Adm. Arleigh Burke, chief of Naval operations, who flew into Boston, made the award and immediately returned by air to Washington.

Byrd had been under the care of Dr. William E. Greer and Dr. Paul Dudley White, head specialist, who was a consultant when President Eisenhower suffered a heart attack.

Unequaled Feat
Foremost among the world's air explorers, Byrd was instrumental in charting some two million square miles of the earth's surface previously unseen by man—a feat unequalled in history.

Since the age of 12, when he traveled around the world unaccompanied, the lure of the unknown called him to far away regions.

This man of slender frame and steel-blue eyes was the leading pioneer among a family of Virginians dating back to 1671. He was born in Winchester, Va., he was a brother of U.S. Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia.

Served In Two Wars
Graduating from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1912, Byrd was forced into early retirement by a leg injury, but came back to serve in two World Wars, to pioneer in naval aviation, to command the first multi-engine plane to fly the Atlantic-continent to continent-non-stop.

And at the age of 41, his commissioning as rear admiral made him the youngest of that rank in the Navy at that time.

First systematic explorer of the Arctic by air, he headed two Arctic and five Antarctic expeditions—flying over the heartland of Antarctica during his last trip to that frozen continent in late 1955 and early 1956.

One of the first to recognize that basic weather originates in the earth's polar regions, he once isolated himself for five months 82 miles from his Antarctic base to conduct meteorological observations. During that time he was made desperately ill by fumes from a stove, but refrained from summoning help lest the life of someone else be endangered in a rescue attempt.

As a crowning point of his long years of exploration, he was named by President Eisenhower "officer in overall charge" of the United States "permanent unit for Antarctic Activity."

Byrd married a childhood sweetheart, Marie D. Ames, in 1915. They had four children, Richard Jr., of Boston; Mrs. William A. Clarke Jr., Swarthmore, Pa.; Mrs. Robert G. Breyer, Los Angeles; and Mrs. Lawrence J. Stabler Jr., of Milford Park, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia.

For 36 years Byrd made his home at 9 Brimmer St., at the foot of Boston's famed Beacon Hill, overlooking the Charles River, and there he wrote several books.

Dust Storms Follow Light Rains In State

Cooler air moved into Nebraska Monday causing the season's worst dust storm to sift yellow grit on eastern and central portions despite very light rains a few hours earlier.

The dust, churned up by winds that gusted to nearly 60 m.p.h. at some points, cut visibility to fractions of a mile over much of the state Monday.

Forecasters said Tuesday's weather would be the same temperature-wise but happily left out the strong winds and dust. High temperatures were to be mostly in the 50s.

Lincoln received .03 of an inch of moisture during an early morning sprinkle. Visibility here was less than a mile during the morning and winds averaged 23 m.p.h. with gusts of 35 m.p.h.

The largest amount of moisture recorded in the southeastern area showers was .40 at Wymore. Auburn got .27 and Tecumseh .22 of an inch. All other points reported readings in the teens or less.

Beatrice recorded gusts of 58 m.p.h. and a steady gale of 10 miles an hour less for the state's strongest blow of the day.

In the west, at McCook, winds gusted to 55 m.p.h. and visibility was so poor that drivers were forced to proceed slowly. Other western areas were comparatively free of severe dust.

Light rain showers fell at Norfolk and Omaha Monday evening. Rainfall amounts, as reported by the Weather Bureau and the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., were:

Teachers Colleges Giving First Masters Degrees This Spring

By BARBARA HEMPHILL
And NANCY BENJAMIN
Star Staff Writers

The first Masters Degrees conferred by a Nebraska state teachers college will be granted by Kearney College in May.

Seven persons are candidates for a Master of Arts or Master of Science in Education from Kearney College at the end of this semester.

Wayne College has four and Chadron one or two candidates to receive advanced degrees at the end of the summer session this year. Peru College will grant its first Masters Degrees no earlier than August, 1958.

The four state colleges started offering graduate-level courses in the past two years. They will confer Masters Degrees only in the field of education.

Many Study For Masters

Already a far larger number of persons have taken graduate courses at the schools than the number to receive degrees this year would indicate. It usually takes a full year to complete work on a masters; however, most persons taking graduate work at these colleges are teachers who attend only summer sessions.

Kearney College, for example, had about 170 graduate students enrolled in the 1956 summer session, but few of them continued their studies through the regular fall and spring semesters.

Kearney College has three "study center" courses, held in the evenings and on Saturdays during the fall and spring semesters, with a total enrollment of 119 in the three courses.

Dr. Herbert L. Cushing, Kearney College president, said there are a number of courses which carry credit for both graduates and undergraduates.

Adds To Burden

Instructors in these courses give additional assignments to the graduate students, "adding somewhat to the burden of the instructor," Dr. Cushing.

But the expansion of the Kearney College curriculum, to add graduate work, does not require any additional instructors, expense or building space, Dr. Cushing said.

Most of the graduate instructors must have Ph.D. Degrees, he said. The Kearney College president called the program a local service to allow graduate credit to teachers and wives who can't go to larger cities where there are colleges or universities with graduate schools.

Officials of the other three teachers colleges said their graduate programs, too, are not "graduate schools" as such and require no additional faculty or expense.

Not Crowded

"Although the program is not a major cost factor," Dr. Cushing said, it could be in the future if the program grows and enrollments increase. Classes are not crowded now, the Kearney College president said.

"Undoubtedly the time will come," he said, "if the college is approved and the program is found worthy, that the numbers of students involved will make it necessary to start a graduate school as such."

(The main accrediting agencies do not inspect a school for accreditation until after it already has granted at least one degree. Then if accreditation is forthcoming, it is retroactive.)

Dr. Cushing said the program at Kearney so far "has exceeded expectations in the sincerity of purpose of the students enrolled. These are serious-minded teachers in a period where better and more teachers are needed."

Monthly Meeting

Presidents of the four colleges and members of the State Normal Board meet monthly to discuss progress of the graduate programs, which the colleges had considered adding to their curricula for several years.

Dr. Barton Kline, president of Chadron College, and the late Dr. John D. Rice, who was Wayne College president, made a study of the program in its early stages.

Chadron College had some graduate students in the summer of 1955 and had about 35 last summer.

That college offers no graduate courses during the fall and spring semesters and has "no definite plans" for them, although there has been discussion about adding them, according to Registrar A.E. Kent.

Wayne's Report

Wayne College had 73 students in its first graduate program last summer, an enrollment of 35 in three evening classes last fall and 20 students in its one evening class being held this semester.

Wayne also has two or three students in four other graduate classes which are offered "more or less on a part-time basis," Registrar M. B. Childs said.

The Peru College graduate program opened with about 70 students last summer and 15 students are enrolled in the single graduate course, an evening class, this semester, according to Dr. Neal S. Gomom, president of the college.

Both Dr. Gomom and the Wayne

College president, Dr. William A. Brandenburg, said their graduate programs need "no additional outlay of any kind" because the heaviest graduate enrollment is in the summer, when the teaching load on the regular staff is lighter.

"We are trying to serve the teachers of our area and provide further upgrading in the quality of our Nebraska teachers," Dr. Brandenburg said.

Many teachers who otherwise would have gone out of Nebraska to take graduate work during the summer are attending the state teachers colleges instead, according to Albin Larson, secretary of the State Normal Board.

Larson said the new program is "simply an extension of the present program," since the graduate degrees are conferred only in one area—education.

Change In City Sunday Closing Law Fails

Would Have Prohibited Operating Laundromats

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

A proposed amendment to Lincoln's Sunday closing ordinance has been indefinitely postponed by the City Council.

The amendment would have specifically prohibited the operation of laundromats on Sunday.

City Attorney Jack Pace told the Council that any regulations in regards to the Sunday closing law border on unconstitutionality and that this was no exception.

The amendment was claimed unconstitutional by Attorney Robert Guezel who opposed the measure. Also, he said, if this amendment were passed the ordinance would have to outlaw Sunday operation of all coin operated vending machines because laundromats use such machines.

Kier Urges Passage

Passage of the amendment was urged by Attorney Max Kier who claimed it was unfair to require one segment of the laundry industry to close on Sunday while permitting another segment to operate on that day.

Introduced to the Council on first reading was the controversial ordinance permitting the use of cigarette vending machines. The measure will be given a public hearing on Monday, March 25.

Other ordinance action:

Permitting use of blanket-type of performance bond to cover all city employees rather than individual bonds.

Change in zoning from single family to local business zoning at 50th and Hiawatha.

Change in zoning from single family to local business along 60th from Dukey to Starr.

Final Approval

City-County Building Group Gets Extension

A one-year extension of the life of the City-County Building Authority has been approved informally by the City Council.

The action followed a request for the extension by Authority Chairman C. C. Kimball.

In view of Nebraska's current drought conditions, Kimball wrote, it is unwise at this time to consider another vote on a proposed new city-county building. However, he said, the building is still very much needed and economic conditions may soon change which would make an election more feasible.

The extension as requested would carry the Authority over to June 1, 1958. The county is expected to approve the extension Tuesday.

Dobson Bid OKd On 21st-O Jog

A $13,000 bid by Dobson Bros. Construction Co. has been approved by the City Council for straightening out the jog in 21st at O.

The improvement involves new paving on 21st from N to P. Both the northeast and southwest corners of 21st and O will be cut back. Also approved was a $3,000 estimate for a storm sewer from 22nd and M to Antelope Creek.

Hearing Date Set

Monday, March 18 has been set by the City Council as the date for hearing on an application to operate a junk yard near Highway 2 between 48th and 52nd.

Thorne Files Again For Councilman

City Councilman Hugh Thorne has filed for re-election to another four-year term on the City Council.

Thorne, 67, lives at 2707 A. He was first elected to the Council in 1953.

"If elected," Thorne said, "I plan to proceed, as I have in the past, to do the best job I can for the citizens of Lincoln."

Thorne said he was influenced to file by friends.

After 30 years in the retail grocery business, Thorne retired in 1950. For the past year, he has operated as a real estate broker.

He is a member of the Shrine, Elks and the First Plymouth Congregational Church. He is an honorary member of the Lincoln Independent Food Retailers Association and is serving his sixth term on the board of Goodwill Industries.

He is married and has three children and five grandchildren. He has lived in Lincoln since 1901.

Van Doren Loses TV Quiz Crown; Takes $129,000

NEW YORK (INS) — Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, a New York lawyer, dethroned Charles Van Doren Monday night as king of the television quiz whizzes.

Mrs. Nearing, a pretty blonde with a knockout mental punch, defeated the 31-year-old english teacher on the NBC-TV show "Twenty-One."

But Van Doren, despite his loss, picked up a check for $129,000, largest single sum ever presented on a TV quiz.

The new champion upset the long-time titleholder by answering correctly two questions on the subjects of kings and animals. Van Doren stumbled over the king category, failing to identify Badouin as Monarch of Belgium.

$2,000 Point

The lady lawyer scored 17 points out of a possible 21 while Van Doren finished with 10. At $2,000 a point for the difference between their scores, Van Doren lost $14,000 of the $143,000 he had accumulated previously.

The defeated champion, asked what plans he has for the $129,000, replied:

"I have a date with the tax man. I hope to do things I really want to do. I am grateful for this."

al revenue service will take. It has been estimated the intern-about $90,000 of Van Doren's prize-winnings in taxes.

Electrical Contractor Bond Bill Action Held

The Legislature's Public Works Committee deferred action Monday on a bill requiring contractors making electrical installations to register and post bond with the state fire marshal's office.

Testimony both for and against the measure, LB 555, was taken at a public hearing.

The bill was introduced by Sens. Hans O. Jensen of Aurora, Stanley L. Porsche of Lincoln and John P. Munnely of Omaha.

Selleck To Resign NU Post Soon

John K. Selleck, University of Nebraska business manager and an official at the University since 1922, will retire "probably within the year."

Selleck, 67, said Monday that he has been planning "for a long time" to leave his official duties. "No date has been set though," he pointed out. The University has been looking for a replacement for over a year, he said.

Plans Travel

He and Mrs. Selleck plan to travel after the long-time University administrator leaves the school. Europe, South America and the United States are all on a probable tour which the Sellecks have envisioned for several years.

The University has reportedly contacted several prospects for the position which Selleck would vacate. He said he knew of no official interviews for the post.

Selleck reached the retirement age in 1954, but agreed to stay on to aid the new chancellor, Clifford M. Hardin.

Joined NU In '22

An alumnus of the Engineering College, he joined NU as assistant purchasing agent January 1, 1922. He then held the post of business manager of athletics for 20 years.

He helped plan expansion of athletic facilities at the University, including the Coliseum, Henry Schulte Memorial Field House and improvements of Memorial Stadium.

Selleck was named comptroller in 1942 and in 1948 was given the additional appointment of business manager.

He was acting chancellor for a year after the resignation of Dr. R. G. Gustavson in 1953.

Brief Filed In $35,609 Damage Verdict Appeal

Jean R. Brown of Clarks, Neb., filed an appellee's brief with the State Supreme Court in connection with a $35,609.50 damage verdict against a Fort Worth, Tex., firm.

The Texas firm, Globe Laboratories, Inc., is appealing the verdict from Douglas County District Court in which Brown, the plaintiff and appellee, was awarded damages.

In his brief, Brown claims the damages from the use of a new bacterin allegedly manufactured by Globe for vaccination of sheep against an overeating disease, enterotoxemia.

Brown contends his lambs were used as "guinea pigs" in testing the new serum. He said the serum did not pass the test and, as a result, he suffered serious financial loss.

Phone Company Says Code Used To Avoid L.D. Tolls

DALLAS (INS) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Monday filed a $50,000 suit against National Van Lines, Inc., for alleged use of a code system to avoid payment on long distance calls.

A temporary restraining order was issued against the moving company by Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

It was charged that the trucking company used a code system under which its drivers made person-to-person calls and collect calls to fictitious names at the national's number in Dallas.

The fictitious names allegedly gave needed information to the firm.

The phone company said National defrauded it of $25,000 and asked additional exemplary damages of $25,000.

SUPREME COURT ORDERS UAW CHARGES TO TRIAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court Monday reinstated an indictment charging the United Automobile Workers with violating federal law by paying for political broadcasts.

Three justices dissented sharply. Justice Douglas, speaking for the dissenters, said the ruling "abolishes First Amendment rights on a wholesale basis."

Chief Justice Warren and Justice Black agreed with Douglas' argument that the Court should uphold the action of U.S. District Judge Frank A. Picard of Detroit in dismissing the indictment.

Justice Frankfurter, speaking for the six-man majority, said Picard erroneously interpreted the Corrupt Practices Act and that this "led him to stop the prosecution prematurely."

The majority was made up of

Haile Selassie Greets Nixon In Ethiopia

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Emperor Haile Selassie, Ethiopia's king of kings, warmly welcomed Vice President Richard Nixon at his imperial palace Monday after an estimated 50,000 Ethiopians cheered his arrival.

Nixon arrived at the start of a tropical rainstorm. He handed Selassie a personal message from President Eisenhower during an audience in the huge red-carpeted throne room.

The vice president arranged to begin talks at a formal state dinner on American military and economic aid. The talks were requested by Selassie.

Wearing a top hat and striped pants, Nixon stepped from his air force DC-4 at Addis Ababa Air Terminal to a greeting from an estimated 3,000 flag-waving Ethiopians.

'Neexon'

Crowds, including thousands of school children, also lined the five-mile route to the palace, applauding and chanting rhythmically "Neexon, Neexon."

Nixon stopped the motorcade twice to get out and shake hands with the children, men and women, most of whom bowed their head and said nothing when he held out his hand.

Bearded Selassie wore an Ethiopian marshal's uniform with red color tabs. He stood in front of a gold and blue satin-lined throne chair with the empress at his side as he received Nixon.

Oman Gets 3 Months For Hiding Crime Knowledge

Roy Patrick Stevens, 23, of Omaha was sentenced in U.S. District Court to three months imprisonment on a charge of concealing knowledge of the Mason City, Neb., bank burglary last year.

Stevens pleaded no contest to the "misprision of a felony" charge Monday before Judge W. Dehant of Lincoln.

Charles Austin Turner, 24, from Mason City, and Vance William Heideman, 21, from Omaha have been convicted on charges of burglarizing the Mason State Bank on Feb. 1, 1956.

Turner, convicted at a jury trial recently, is awaiting sentence on the burglary charge in federal court.

FIREMAN APPEALS 'BUDDY PLAN' FIRING

... Asks Hearing Before City Board

Robert Lybarger, former city fireman, has filed an appeal of his discharge from the fire department for "insubordination."

Lybarger was released last Thursday after refusing to wear a pistol while on duty in a police cruiser. He said the carrying of a gun was against his religious beliefs.

The request for a hearing before the board of appeals of the city's merit system was presented to the City Council through Attorney Frederick Wagener. The request was referred to Personnel Director Ray Ramsay for processing.

Asks Written Notice

Wagener asked to be served with written notice of the charges against Lybarger, a chance to answer the charges and a date set for hearing.

The merit system ordinance, Wagener said, clearly states that no employee shall be discriminated against or removed for "political or religious opinions or affiliations."

It makes no difference, Wagener said, whether Lybarger belongs to a church or not so long as his religious opinion is contrary to the carrying of a gun.

The appeals board is advisory only to the City Council. On the board are Dr. C. Glenn Callen, William M. Stoner Sr. and Willard Townsend.

Plan Under Study

Lybarger's case, and the entire integration system which led to his dismissal, is still under study by a committee of the Lincoln Central Labor Union, AFL-CIO.

In a meeting with Welfare and Safety Director Emmett Junge, the committee was advised that should the integration mean an increase in fire insurance rates, its discontinuance would be recommended.

There has been speculation that the fire insurance underwriters might feel the plan means less fire protection and thus give the city a worse fire rating.

No Report Yet

Junge explained that no report on the subject has yet been received from the underwriters. Fire Chief E. Paul Feaster, Junge said, is making periodic reports to the underwriters on the progress of the integration.

In answer to committee questions, Junge said the firemen, before assuming cruiser car duty, are given both field and station training in the use of firearms.

A possible voluntary program of cruiser duty for firemen was suggested by the labor group. They also questioned the fairness of forcing a fireman to risk his life in police work when he was hired as a fireman.

Mideast Oil Flowing Toward West Europe Again

... New Supplies Bypass Canal

LONDON (AP)—Middle East oil is flowing toward Western Europe again after a four-month standstill. A London spokesman of the Iraq Petroleum Co. (IPC) announced here that pumps started pushing oil across Syria to the Mediterranean Monday. The oil will begin reaching the coast terminal at Banias tomorrow. These supplies bypass the Suez Canal, still closed to shipping, and are loaded on tankers at Banias for shipment to Western Europe. At the same time a broadcast from the British-protected Island of Bahrain, in the Persian Gulf, said oil had started flowing to the refinery on the island from Saudi Arabia Saturday. These were the first positive advances toward relieving the oil shortage that hit Western Europe at the time of the Suez invasion by British and French forces. Iraqi oil was then cut off from the west because pipeline installations across Syria were blown up by the Syrian Army, while Saudi Arabia banned oil exports to Britain and France. At Reduced Rate However, the resumed pipeline flow will be at a reduced rate for some time. An IPC spokesman explained: "The 30-inch pipeline to Banias is the newest of the three and therefore was in better condition and needed less repairs. We have heard officially that pumping through this pipeline actually has started." The other IPC pipelines, a 16-inch and a 12-inch, run to Tripoli on Lebanon's Mediterranean coast. They should be operating again "within a day or two," the spokesman said. These also bypass Suez. The company—owned by British, French, Dutch and American capital—planned to push through oil temporarily at the rate of 11 million tons a year. Before the Suez crisis it flowed at the rate of 25 million tons a year. The London spokesman said: "It will take a long time to get the pipelines repaired completely. It may be over a year before we get back to the normal rate of 25 million tons a year."

Tackle Big Obstacle

CAIRO (AP)—A Suez Canal authority spokesman said Monday night the U.N. salvage fleet will begin work Tuesday on the tug Edgar Bonnet, one of the two major obstructions still sunk in the canal. Egypt had delayed permission while Egyptian divers finished preliminary dismantling work on the 841-ton tug. It was sunk near the midway point of the 103-mile canal last November. Egyptian authorities said the preliminaries included removal of explosives. The other big obstacle is the 1,461-ton Egyptian frigate Abukir, sunk four miles from the southern end. The announcement on the Edgar Bonnet also said ships up to 500 tons will be allowed to transit the canal starting Tuesday.

STRATOLINER AFTER RECORD FLIGHT Boeing's Jet Passenger Plane Hops U.S. In Less Than 4 Hours

By VERN HAUGLAND BALTIMORE (AP)—The Boeing 707 airliner hooked a high wind across the Rockies to the roaring power of its jet engines Monday and carried 52 persons faster than any large group has ever before been transported—right up to the very edge of 700 miles an hour. Boosted to a ground speed peak of 698 miles an hour for a few exhilarating minutes over the northwestern Montana, the 707 whistled in nonstop from Seattle in the record time—for a transcontinental flight by passenger-carrying aircraft—of three hours and 48 minutes. Its average speed for the 2,325 miles from Puget Sound to Chesapeake bay, greatly increased by the tail winds, was 612 miles an hour. Not once did the 707 itself, moving within its own layer of air, exceed the speed of sound. Its top speed from its own engine power was 596 miles an hour. But the speed of the plane, plus the forward movement of the mass of air in which it was traveling, added up to a supersonic total for movement across the face of the earth. Faster Rate For a period of about 10 minutes, this tail wind and jet thrust combination hustled the 707 and its occupants across the Idaho panhandle and the Montana tall timber country actually at a faster rate than sound can travel. The 3 hours and 48 minutes were measured from the start of the takeoff run at Seattle's Boeing Field to the time the swept-wing giant darted, 25,000 feet overhead, across the omni-range radio station at the edge of Baltimore's Friendship International Airport. Then the pilot, A.M. (Tex) Johnston, nosed the plane into a steep spiraling descent—a drop of 8,000 to 10,000 feet a minute—that was like a ride down an express elevator. It could be felt, but it was not the least alarming or uncomfortable. Just three hours and 56 minutes away from Seattle—the sleek queen of tomorrow's air fleets touched wheels gently down on Friendship's 9,450-foot runway. The 707 clipped 10 minutes off its own record of October, 1955, for a similar flight, but of 2,340 miles, measured not from takeoff but from over Seattle to over Washington, D.C. 612 Average The National Aeronautic Assn. said that the official transcontinental speed record is three hours 44 minutes and 53.88 seconds, set March 9, 1955, by an Air Force Republic F84F jet fighter on a 2,445.9-mile flight from over the center of Los Angeles to over the center of New York City. The F84F speed average was 652½ miles an hour, compared with the 707's new average of 612 miles an hour. The Defense Department said the fastest unofficial transcontinental flight on record was that of an Air Force Boeing B-47 bomber which raced 2,700 miles from Riverside, Calif., to Boston Jan. 25 in three hours and 47 minutes for an average speed of 715 miles an hour. With 32 newsmen and a confusion of typewriters, cameras and movie equipment moving constantly about its roomy interior, the 707 hit its best stride by latching onto a "jet stream"—a river of high winds encountered at an altitude of 31,000 feet, over the Rocky Mountains east of Spokane, Wash. Over the plane's loudspeaker Johnston announced that the speed from Spokane to Mullan Pass, on the Idaho-Montana border, had averaged 658 miles an hour, "exactly the speed of sound at this altitude." Johnston said the 707's true air speed for that period was 568 miles an hour — 86/100ths of the speed of sound—but that the 90-mile-an-hour tail wind had boosted it to the speed-of-sound figure. Over western Montana Johnston boosted the true speed to a maximum of 596 miles an hour and a 102-mile-an-hour wind obligingly raised it to the verge of 700 mph.

Up And Up We Go

It falls to Sen. Karl E. Vogel of Omaha, hard-working, conscientious chairman of the budget committee of the Nebraska Unicameral Legislature, to be of particular service to his fellow Nebraskans.

The Omaha World-Herald reports that Dr. Cecil Wittson's request for a bigger increase in the state mental health budget may come under the economy knife. The Herald then quotes Vogel to the effect that he (Chairman Vogel) questions whether the state can afford to appropriate all State Mental Health Co-ordinator Wittson requests. Is there any question about need for economy in Nebraska? Is this the time we should be tossing money around, money which will have to come from the sweat and toil of people in all of the uncertainties which face this state at the beginning of the crop season of 1957?

It is not an easy decision for Sen. Vogel or for his associates on the appropriations committee. It so happens, with the skies darkened by dust Monday and with the outlook anything but good, that the committee Vogel heads has no easy decision. Each money request carries a headache with it. But a conservative attitude on Vogel's part will be of real help in the next 24 months.

Dr. Wittson's ideas on a mental health program in Nebraska are getting just a little bit rich for the blood. His request of the Unicameral is placed at a million more than the governor recommended. The Herald says that Wittson himself figures his request at $2 million more than the current two-year appropriation, while figures from the Board of Control records total about $3½ million more than current expenditures. This is a poor time for Nebraskans to embark upon the spending spree Dr. Wittson seems to have in mind.

Mid State Bill Called Unique

The bill prepared by Nebraska's Congressman A. L. Miller to place the Nebraska Mid-State Reclamation District under a partnership agreement with the federal government was described by Washington news sources as "unique."

That merits more than usual examination and thought throughout the length and breadth of this irrigation and electric power conscious state—a state which itself is unique in that it stands alone exclusively dedicated to a public power program.

The Mid-State project affects 140,000 acres in Buffalo, Hall and Merrick counties, a strategic area which, given managed water and ever-normal production, promises to be as rich a producing area as the bounteous Platte Valley.

Rep. Miller's conception of federal-district partnership would involve federal advances of funds, repayable without interest for the development of irrigation and flood control. But in the instance of electric power generation—an integral part of Nebraska projects—this district would be required to seek private financing for its generation units.

It is a fair question to ask in detail why, in a type of land development which has historically demonstrated the practicability of a totally integrated program in which the full revenues from power sale and water use are dedicated to the economic necessities of the program—why should the higher and added charges be placed upon the electrical portion by evicting it from the federal picture? Indeed this is a unique departure. Conceivably there are regions where private utilities might claim a disadvantage. But Nebraska is a public power state where no such complaint could exist.

Elusive Supply And Demand

The Republican Des Moines Register is not concealing its distaste for much of the administration's treatment of agriculture.

After a detailed look at the Department's 1957 schedule of farm price support levels it repeated the Iowa farm opinion that Secretary Benson is listening to eastern dairy and poultry interests more than he is listening to Middle West farm groups.

The Register noted that the $2 per bushel support for wheat in 1956 is contained at that level for 1957. But support levels for feed grains, corn, oats, barley, grain sorghums, rye, soybeans, flaxseed were substantially lowered. Milk for manufacturing continued with its support unchanged, cotton was off but slightly, while wool and butterfat remained constant. Corn was lowered from $1.50 a bushel to $1.36.

Observed the Register:

"According to the principles which Secretary Benson espouses for setting price supports, these changes for 1957 are all wrong. Secretary Benson says that price supports ought to be adjusted according to supply and demand conditions. The wheat surplus is much larger than the corn surplus in relation to domestic consumption and exports. Yet wheat price supports are maintained at the same level while corn price supports are dropped."

In terms of academic discussion the Register has succeeded in pinning down Secretary Benson in a notable departure from his own thesis of price supports and supply and demand. But there is very little in the entire farm price picture that glorifies supply and demand. This is a period of declared surplus. To hear Secretary Benson tell it the country has raw food running out of every bin. And there has been some decline in the market as price supports have descended. The farm per bushel income is down. That is where the working of the principle of supply and demand seems to end. Table food is higher than ever and still going up.

And as the Register implies perhaps Secretary Benson is listening too attentively to non-farm influences. If that is the case he may be able to remedy a lot of things, but none of them will be agriculture.

Nixon's Technique

It is stirring to learn that Vice President Richard Nixon is having such success with the Arab and African people. Everywhere he has gone he was cordially received in Africa.

It is also interesting to note that he has been lavish with his supply of gold pencils. Native chieftains, kings and others have accepted these tokens of American friendship with delighted cries. Indeed, he seems to be doing with pencils what other Americans are not quite getting done with billions. Perhaps the key to it is that our employment of things and ideas we think are important are not the things they think are important. Then again it may be that the Nixon visit is demonstrating that there actually is a deep well of good will and potential friendship in great parts of the Arab and African world only waiting to be primed by acts of good faith.

And there, of course, is a subtle suggestion in it all that Secretary Dulles try leaving his brinkmanship behind for a change and substitute it with a valise full of pencils.

Still Ahead

The weekend was marred by the news of three traffic fatalities and will by that much be forever short of the qualifying description of a happy weekend.

But it is still reassuring to know that Nebraska got this far into 1957 with 19 less highway fatalities than last year. There is reason to believe that Nebraskans have moved a step forward in the cause of safe driving. If the current rate can be held the 1957 death toll can be a full hundred less than a year ago—a final figure of something near 200 instead of in the order of 300. Certainly that is a tremendously worthwhile goal.

Ike Gives Len Hall Cooling Treatment

WASHINGTON — It was no accident that the conservative leaders of the Grand Old Party gave a reception for ex-Chairman Len Hall in the Senate chamber room where it would get as much publicity as possible.

It was probably also no accident that President Eisenhower that same morning kissed off a press conference query with a laconic comment that if "a suitable post" became available for Len Hall, "I have no doubt his name would occur to me."

The timing was accidental, but not Ike's calculated reply.

For some time, GOP leaders have been reaching a slow boil over the treatment given the man who, more than any other, first maneuvered Eisenhower into running again, kept the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket intact, and piloted it through the '56 campaign. It was Hall, who, after Eisenhower was stricken in Denver, met the press and, without the faintest idea the President would ever recover, boldly told newsmen there would be no change, Ike would run.

Hall has confessed privately that he was traveling on sheer nerve. He knew Mamie was dead opposed. He knew brother Milton was opposed. But gradually he built up a self-confidence in Eisenhower and a feeling that it was only natural for a man with a heart attack to run for President.

Senators Knowland (Calif.) and Bridges (N.H.) with ex-Speaker Joe Martin (Mass.), remembering this, have seen four months go by since the election with no job gesture for Len Hall. That's one reason they organized the gala party and invited Ike to be there.

What cooled the White House on

Hall after November 6 was that the boys around Ike began to take a good look at testimony before the House Government Operations Committee regarding Len's influencing of government contracts. The Democrats were unable to get the press and public to pay much attention to this in '56. But the House Government Operations Committee has begun to reinvestigate the sworn testimony that Hall held up a contract for the government's Nicaraguan nickel plant in Cuba until officials of the Frederick H. Sear Co. contributed $7,000 to the Republican Party.

This is against the law. Hall was asked to testify by Congressman Jack Brooks of Texas, but so far has been about as busy as Dave Beck — though not so absent.

On top of this, the White House learned that Hall's brother-in-law, C. Malcolm Dowsey, had been indicted in Potsdam, N. Y., on a charge of forgery. Allegedly he forged his wife's name to a $2,500 mortgage and a $2,500 bond. This does not reflect on Hall. But with guilt by association having been made popular by Nixon and McCarthy, it's feared the Democrats may make the most of it.

All this was behind Ike's press conference reply: "I have no doubt his name would occur to me."

Those unresponsive words, carried immediately by press and the political grapevine to Capitol Hill, raised the hackles still further on GOP necks. Warned of this reaction, the President went all out to praise Hall in a statement at the Congressional reception. But significantly, he boosted Len for governor of New York, not for a job in his own administration.

JESUS LOVED THEM

Mary Magdalene

"Women loved Jesus," says Papini in his incomparable "Life of Christ." "They would have liked to be His sisters, His servants, His slaves; to serve Him, to set bread before Him, to pour Him wine, to wash His garments, to anoint His tired feet and His flowing hair."

Next to His mother, the woman who was nearest to Jesus, who followed Him fearlessly to the very foot of the cross, and to whom He appeared first when He rose from the dead, was Mary Magdalene.

She was so called because she came from the town of Magdala, in Galilee, where she lived during the early part of her life.

Scripture does not include many details of her life before she met Jesus, but most Biblical scholars agree that she was a woman of considerable means and position in her society.

Although popular opinion has long made her a kind of arch-type for the "repentant sinner" and fallen woman, there is not a shred of evidence to support such a view.

On the contrary, it is more likely that she was, as one ancient writer says, an educated woman, daughter of a wealthy Greek ship owner, who taught Platonic philosophy.

In any event, from the moment she met Jesus, until His final reappearance from the tomb, she was His devoted and intimate follower.

She accompanied Him and ministered to Him on His last journey from Galilee to Jerusalem, and

"And certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities. Mary called Magdalene, out of whom went seven devils . . . and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance."

together with Mary, His mother, and John, the beloved disciple, wept for Him on Calvary.

After the Crucifixion, she helped prepare His body for entombment. And, as Papini says so beautifully: "Many loving tears fell upon that face where in the calm pale-ness of death the old sweetness shone once more, and their tears washed it with water purer than that from Joseph's well."

Right To Disagree

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In this blessed United States we have the right to disagree with our leaders and still respect and honor them. And we have the priceless right to settle our differences by a vote of the people.

The Citizens' Committee is more than willing to believe that those officials who favor urban renewal with federal aid are supporting LB 431 with the best and most honorable intentions. The bill has merits. Carried to its ultimate, we can believe that it might so re-make Lincoln where there would be no old houses, no old people, and no poor folk.

On the other hand, we who are old, poor and must live in economical homes are not ready to be eliminated—yet. One of our officials spoke at the recent hearing on LB 431 about the "mass of misinformation" that had been presented. But the opposition to LB 431 is not based on misinformation. We are informed. And the more informed we become, the less we want urban renewal with federal aid.

This same official said, "It is easy to be critical." And to that point we can agree. But in this case our criticism is aroused only because this same official has promulgated a course of action that we consider dangerous to our peace and safety. Under the circumstances it becomes our civic duty to open our mouths and protest.

We also have the right to vote on questions that affect our well-being. LB 431 does not presently provide for submitting the issue of urban renewal to a vote of the people whose money will pay for it, if accepted. The Citizens' Committee has asked the Committee on Government of the Legislature to amend the bill so that the voters may decide. This is the American way of life, and we believe that the gentlemen will be swift to grant our request.

However, a letter or a phone call from interested voters will help them to know the public mind. The members of the Committee on Government are: Senators Norman Otto, Fred M. Waggoner, Sam Klaver, Peter H. Claussen, Frank Nelson, Stanley L. Pertsche, and Dwain Williams. The address is State Capitol, Lincoln, Neb. The time is now. If interested, write or call at once.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Why wasn't "Tax Tired" (Friday, March 8, Star) a "lucky" farmer himself if he thinks it's so easy to be a taxpaying farmer? He could have been just that if he had saved his dimes in his early days like the rest of us. All there was to do was to buy a high-priced farm, plus a lot of necessary machinery, with a mortgage on the land during eight years of drought in the '30's, and then watch crops burn up year after year.

Why anyone would be so naive as to begrudge a farmer anything he has earned is beyond me. As far as the soil bank, the farmer didn't ask for that, either. All that the farmer asks for is rain and the privilege of being left alone. Talk about specialized schemers—just who does he think these schemers are? If the big boys want the farmers to get into the soil bank, surely it is known that the farmer must till the soil, keep weeds down and protect his land from erosion, which means that it costs him to operate his machinery, etc. to do this.

I can see why the laboring class of people in the city can't get ahead. Their husband would buy the little lady a sack of flour and tell her to hop to it and learn to bake, have a garden and can

Senate GOP Unit Eying New Curb On Federal Office Holders

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate Republican Policy Committee, aroused by mounting protests against the highest peacetime budget in history, is considering a revolutionary new curb on the administration's power to increase federal office holders.

Chairman Styles Bridges told this correspondent that the top GOP group is exploring the possibility of setting a legal ceiling on the number of government workers.

A precedent for the congressional action could be found in the present legal limitation on the national debt. Before an administration can increase this nation's indebtedness above the statutory limitation, it must go to Congress, hat in hand, to request the power to do so.

The same system could be applied to the number of people employed by the executive branch of the government.

Bridges said if his group decides that such stringent action is feasible, it will order a survey to determine how many civilian employees are actually necessary to run the affairs of state.

"Absolutely no one knows, at the present time," he shrugged. "We would not want to set too high a ceiling, for fear that administrations might take advantage of the figure to fill unnecessary jobs. We also want to avoid setting it lower than essential for good government."

The ranking Republican took the Senate floor last Friday to protest a published report that the Eisenhower administration plans an increase of 105,000 civilian jobs in non-defense agencies.

At the current average of $4,000 annually per federal employee, this would boost government expenditures by 420 million dollars a year.

'Steady Stream'

Bridges, who protested that the government needs more employees "as much as I need three hands," disclosed Monday that the administration has sent "a steady stream of callers" to see him since his heated Senate attack on the reported increase.

He said the President's envoys insisted that the 105,000 new jobs would not be in addition to current levels of employment, since some jobs are being abolished and others will be left unfilled as vacancies occur.

Bridges revealed that some members of the policy committee have proposed that Congress pass a resolution on federal expenditures. Several other possibilities are also being explored.

Common Ground

The new economy move is the one measure on which both sides of the political aisle seem to be finding enthusiastic common ground this session. Although President Eisenhower's foreign policy has had some rough sledding as a bipartisan measure, leaders of both parties are clamoring for a slash in the proposed 72 billion dollar budget.

Judicial Council Okays 3 Bills On Legal Notices

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The Nebraska Judicial Council Monday approved three bills as suggested legislation to make Nebraska's laws conform with a recent ruling of the United States Supreme Court on additional service of legal notice.

The nation's highest court held, in a December ruling, that newspaper publication of legal notice was insufficient and that notification also must be given to the interested parties by mail whenever possible.

The Council will submit the proposed bills to the Legislature's Judiciary Committee to be introduced in the Legislature. It will require 22 votes to introduce each measure.

Mailing Required

The first of the proposed bills provides that the party instituting or maintaining any action or proceeding of any kind or nature, where notice by publication is required, must mail a copy of such published notice to each and every party appearing to have a direct legal interest whose name and address are known to him.

The bill requires that the notice be mailed within five days after the first publication, and that the party giving notice must file an affidavit stating he has mailed the notice within 10 days after the mailing.

If the party has been unable to ascertain the whereabouts of all the interested parties, he must file an affidavit proving "diligent investigation and inquiry" into the person's whereabouts.

'All Actions'

This bill also specifies that the term "action" or "proceeding" means all action or proceeding in any court and also means any action or proceeding before the governing bodies of municipal corporations, public corporations and political subdivisions for equalization of special assessments or assessing the cost of any public improvement.

It does not require notice by mail on general obligations adopted by the vote of the people.

The bill notes this measure is intended to be cumulative and supplemental to existing legislation and is "deemed to be a matter of general, state-wide concern."

Includes 'Home Rule'

Council members explained this provision "takes care of cities operating under home rule charters."

The second bill, proposed by the Judicial Council, provides that cities, including cities which do or will operate under home rule charter, villages, public corporations and political subdivisions be empowered to relevy and reassess any special assessments which may be declared void, invalid, defective or irregular.

The third measure provides a statute of limitations of one year in any action or proceeding where notice has been heretofore given solely by publication in a newspaper.

All three measures carry the emergency clause and would become law immediately upon passage and signing by the governor.

Nebraska Supreme Court Justice Edward F. Carter, chairman of the Council, said, "We can't hope that (the bills) will cover everything involved."

He suggested the proposed measures would alleviate some serious problems which have arisen since the high court's ruling, and, citing the short time left in this legislative session, Judge Carter said it would be "utterly impossible for us to change some 300 statutes we have relating to notice."

Lincoln City Attorney Jack Pace told the Council of the need for legislation dealing with the matter and said, "Out-of-state bond attorneys already have notified us they won't approve our special assessment bonds" until the legal snarl on publication is untangled.

Mid-State District Vote Compromise To Be Proposed

A "compromise" to a Legislative bill to extend the time allowed the Mid-State Reclamation District to get construction underway or hold an election on the district's continuance will be offered by Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, he said Monday.

The present bill is LB 527.

Lautenschlager said he will propose a vote at the primary election in May of 1958 unless construction is under way by then.

Under present law, an election would be required this coming November unless construction has begun by then.

LB 527 proposed to extend the election deadline for three years but backers of the bill have since indicated a willingness to cut the period to one year—a vote at the 1958 general election.

Lautenschlager said there is a "considerable group" which would like the present law to stand, and another "large group" which would like to see the vote postponed until the fall of 1958.

In asking for a vote at the primary election in May, Lautenschlager said, "I am asking each group to yield six months in consideration of the other."

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONOID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONOID's great moisturizing capacity plus COLONOID's stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONOID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! —Egypt Set To Take Over Gaza—

U. N. Power Is Challenged

... ISRAEL GRAVELY CONCERNED

CAIRO (AP)—Egypt announced Monday it is taking over administration of the turbulent Gaza Strip.

The announcement surprised U.N. officials in Gaza as they were smoothing out working arrangements between local Arab officials and the U.N. Emergency Force (UNEF).

Dr. Ralph Bunche, U.N. under-secretary general, said on his return to Cairo from Gaza, however, that the U.N. "never has questioned Egypt's legal rights regarding Gaza."

Dr. Bunche Prize.

Swift Action

In two swift moves Egypt:

1. Announced appointment of Gen. Hassan Abdel Latif as governor of Gaza. The 26 x 8-mile strip was given up only last week by Israel's army.

2. Fired off a protest to U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld against the UNEF for firing shots over the head of a mob in Gaza Sunday. The mob was demanding return of Egyptian administration.

(An Israeli government official in Jerusalem expressed grave concern over the takeover announcement, fearing it might mean more bloodshed. Israel quit the strip on an "assumption" that the U.N. would take over.

Egyptians Move

(The Jewish Telegraph Agency reported 300 Egyptian police have moved into the Gaza Strip. It said Egypt's flag was hoisted next to the U.N. flag over the governor's headquarters.

(Walter Eytan, Israeli foreign ministry director general, charged Egypt was waging a terror campaign in the strip, raiders again were striking into Israel, and demanded UNEF protection. "Israel has made it perfectly clear she will not tolerate provocations of this kind," Eytan warned in a broadcast.)

Release of the Egyptian announcement reflected the tension growing between the Egyptians and the UNEF since the UNEF moved in behind the withdrawing Israeli army.

Neither Bunche nor Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, UNEF commander, had an inkling that Egypt intended to take such a step, it was learned.

Gaza Strip Now Calm

GAZA, Gaza Strip (AP)—A U.N. information spokesman declared Monday night the Gaza Strip is calm and its inhabitants are co-operating with the U.N. plan to set up a temporary administration.

Dr. Ralph Bunche, U.N. under-secretary, conferred during the day with Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, the U.N. emergency force commander who is establishing UNEF headquarters in Gaza.

Bunche told newsmen later he wanted to deny rumors that UNEF planned to "internationalize" the Gaza Strip. There has been a growing local demand in Gaza for return of an Egyptian administration, and huge signs in the street say Gaza must not be internationalized.

Sunday UNEF forces fired over the heads of Arabs and used tear gas to break up demonstrations for return of an Egyptian administration.

Washington Stunned

WASHINGTON (INS)—Egypt's decision to take over administration of the tinderbox Gaza Strip stunned the State Department and U.S. diplomats were instructed to press for exact details in Cairo and the United Nations.

The department withheld official comment.

GAZA STRIP TROUBLE HAS MANY PARALLELS IN HISTORY—NWU PROF

International tensions over the Gaza Strip as typical of how small bits of land have caused political headaches all through history, a Nebraska Wesleyan University teacher has said.

He is Professor George Corfield, head of the geography department at Wesleyan.

"Such little necks of land have often been troublesome," he told his class this week, "because they have boundaries that ignore the human geography of the area."

"Gaza's of Past" Professor Corfield said, "have been the Polish Corridor; the Letetia Corridor in Colombia, South America; and a small strip of land in Nyasaland in south east Africa." He said these were examples of small pieces of land that have caused national and international tension.

But the Gaza Strip is probably setting some kind of a record for causing trouble, he admitted.

The Gaza Strip, which was captured from Egypt by Israel and recently evacuated by Israeli troops under U. N. orders, is 25 miles long and three to ten miles wide. It is an arid, comparatively unproductive piece of land.

Ignore Human Element Tensions over such small areas of land have often arisen when politicians set geographical boundaries, Professor Corfield said, and ignore the "human geography" of the areas. Human geography, he said, considers the ethnic background, heritages and traditions of the people in the areas involved, he said.

"Human geography strives to keep like peoples together and to set them off from unlike people," he said.

The geography teacher pointed out that mathematical boundaries can work, though, if peoples on both sides want them to. He said the U.S.-Canadian border—longest unguarded boundary in the world—is a triumph in international relations because it is not bristling with guns.

Such constant shifts in land ownership, such as in Gaza, make problems for mapmakers, Professor Corfield admitted.

"But it makes the study of geography more interesting for the students," he said.

Lincoln Man Fined $50 On Morals Charge

A 22-year-old Lincoln man was fined $50 in Lancaster County Court Monday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a 16-year-old girl from Friend.

A deputy sheriff arrested Sugden in a car with the girl Sunday near Cheney.

Boy Dies In Fire; 5 Others Injured

MINNEAPOLIS (INS)—A three-year-old boy was killed and five other persons were burned, two critically, Monday when fire swept a four-family dwelling in Minneapolis.

Benedict Bellinger perished in the flames, while his two-month-old sister, Victoria, and two-year-old cousin Martha Martin were burned critically.

Mrs. Shirley Bellinger, 22, Mrs. Shirley Martin, 36, and John Martin, 4, all were treated for burns and released from a nearby hospital. Investigators were seeking to determine the cause of the fire.

Orson Welles Hurt By Fall Into Venice Canal

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Orson Welles fell into a Venice canal—nearby Venice, Calif., canal, that is—and was hurt, his physician reported Monday.

Welles slipped on the bank while on a movie location.

The hefty performer suffered a severe sprain of the left ankle and knee, facial cuts and a possible break of his left wrist.

A subdivider years ago patterned California's Venice after Italy's canal-famous city. But most of the local waterways have been filled in for streets.

RAH! RAH! THE BLOOMER GIRLS!

We understand that the cheer leaders at the basketball game between the Clumsy Colonels and the Corny Coaches, which will be played this evening at the University of Nebraska Coliseum, are mighty partial to the Clumsy Colonels.

The cheer leaders, better known as the "Roaring Twenties Bloomer Girls" will cheer ever-onward the Colonels, and their boos—which they also have been practicing, will be reserved for the game officials—and the opposing team. There's one very good reason. The Roaring Twenties' Bloomer Girls, fake eye-lashes and all, are wives of Air Force officers.

Town Talk

THIS is one of those betwixt and between weeks—There's nothing exciting on the calendar—but the days don't come under the heading of dull, either. This is the time of year when Greek letter alumnae are up to their ears in plans for initiation banquets.

Understand that busy with just such an affair are Mrs. Foster Woodruff and Mrs. William Seiboldt, co-chairmen of the Delta Gamma banquet to be held on Friday evening, March 15, at the Lincoln Country Club. Assisting Mrs. Woodruff and Mrs. Seiboldt are Mrs. Robert Hinds, Mrs. William Shainholtz, Mrs. Robert Knoll, Mrs. Richard Moulton, Mrs. Jerome Druliner, Mrs. Howard Hansen and Mrs. Roger Von Gillern.

Coming from out of town to attend the banquet will be Mrs. Louis Hopkins, Salisbury, Md.; Mrs. Charles Adams, Aurora; Mrs. William Bailey, Scottsbluff; Mrs. Gene Merchant, Mrs. Carl Swanson, Mrs. J. R. McPhail, all of Omaha; Miss Elaine Esch, Skokie, Ill.; Mrs. Irving Augustine, Grand Island; Miss Flossie Haslam, Fremont; Mrs. J. P. McKnight, Auburn, and Mrs. Frank Rain, St. Louis, Mo.

JUST learned that Miss Janet Danielson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Danielson, and Kappa Alpha Theta at Nebraska, won the piano classification at the 15th biennial student auditions of the Nebraska Federation of Music Clubs, which was held on Sunday at Joslyn Memorial, Omaha.

BACK in town is Mrs. A. H. Lock who returned on Sunday evening from Indianapolis where she visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Hamilton—her four-and-a-half year-old granddaughter, Marcia. But the star of the show on this visit was Mrs. Lock's brand new grandson, John Lock Hamilton, who arrived on Feb. 21. Mrs. Hamilton, as almost everyone knows, is the former Rachel Lock.

UNDERSTAND that Mr. and Mrs. Richard Veach and their children, Susan and Clark, have recently been transferred from Chicago to Omaha where their address is 1617 So. 98th St. Mr. and Mrs. Veach and their family were in Lincoln on Sunday—the guests of Mr. Veach's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Veach.

Campus circles of a few years ago will remember Mrs. Veach as the former Harriet Dugan.

We Hear That

Dr. and Mrs. Donald L. Herzog of Grand Island are the parents of a son, Donald David, born on Saturday, March 9, at Grand Island. Young Mr. Herzog has two sisters, Georgia and Mary Ruth, and is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Herzog and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Decker of Lincoln.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

There always is time for fun in Eastridge. Morning is coffee time—afternoon means entertainment and gaiety for the youngsters—and the evening brings guests, hostesses for bridge, or a gathering of neighborhood friends for visiting and relaxation.

Entertaining on Wednesday evening was Mrs. Norman Stones, who was hostess to neighborhood friends at a sewing-social. On hand for the social event and informal coffee were Mrs. A. W. Wilson, Mrs. Dean Tompkins, Mrs. Max Hulbert, Mrs. Art Mapstead, Mrs. Dale McCracken, Mrs. Bud Lambert, Mrs. David McEntire, Mrs. Duane Grantski and Mrs. Bob Glatz.

Moving into their new home on Eldon Drive in Eastridge two weeks ago were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wigg, who formerly resided at 1846 B Street. Needless to say, the new residents have been heartily welcomed by their neighbors. Extending neighborhood courtesy to Mrs. Wigg on Saturday morning was Mrs. Emanuel Lind. Guests at the get-acquainted coffee besides Mrs. Wigg were Mrs. Paul Mulder, Mrs. Lloyd Jackson and Mrs. John Gardner.

Visitors in the community last week end were Ens. and Mrs. Donald H. Lind of Hutchinson, Kan. The Linds were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Lind in Eastridge and Dr. and Mrs. George Stafford.

Also entertaining guests were

McClellan To Vote Foreign Aid Kill As Budget-Cut Method

... Calls Program 'Blank Check'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) served notice Monday night he will vote for complete elimination of foreign aid as one means of cutting President Eisenhower's record peacetime budget.

McClellan, a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, denounced the present aid program as a "blank check" for "billion-dollar spending" and said he will oppose further appropriations until the administration comes up with what he called a "sensible" program.

At the same time, Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland and two House Appropriation Committee members predicted Congress will cut Mr. Eisenhower's $4,400,000,000 foreign aid requests by at least one billion dollars.

Their predictions came despite budget director Percival Brundage's statement that the President's 1958 spending proposals do not leave room for "substantial cuts."

Next Year

Brundage said, however, that revenues are going up at such a rate that a tax cut could probably be made next year if spending is not sliced below the President's requests.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex), said a Democratic-sponsored resolution calling on the President to recommend where and how "substantial" slashes can be made, will be considered in the House Tuesday.

McClellan, interviewed on Mutual Broadcasting System's "Reporters Roundup," said Congress should authorize spending only for specific projects considered separately.

The senator also said "wherever possible" cuts should be made in domestic programs such as drought relief, school building and government salaries. He stressed that he favors spending for "practical programs of internal developments."

Spending

McClellan said he opposes any overall tax cut this year unless it resulted from reduced government spending. He declared, however, that tax laws should be revised to grant some relief to small business and individual taxpayers.

The two House members who joined Knowland in predicting a major cut in foreign aid requests were Reps. Otto Passman (D-Ala.) and Melvin Laird (R-Wis). Passman is chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee that considers the foreign aid spending bill.

Laird said he would support a cut of two billion and added that he believes it could be made without hurting national security.

Knowland said he believes another billion can be slashed from the budget aside from foreign aid reduction but did not indicate exactly where.

'Gigantic Step'

Meanwhile, three House Democrats attacked the administration's plan to hire 105,000 more non-defense employees, one of them calling it a "gigantic step" in the direction of Communism.

Leading the assault on the payroll increase was Rep. J. Byran Dorn (D-S.C.) who said in a House speech that he was shocked that the administration would propose to hire another 105,000 workers.

"If I know anything about communism," Dorn said, "it's when everybody works for the federal government. . . I call this backing into communism through the back door."

The others attacking the federal payroll were Reps. Hugh Alexander (D-N.C.) and James C. Davis (D-Ga.), chairman of the civil service manpower subcommittee.

Asks Support

WASHINGTON — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) Monday called for nationwide support of a congressional campaign to cut President Eisenhower's budget, reduce the federal debt, and lay a foundation for "some further tax reductions next year."

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, addressing the opening session of the 38th annual meeting of the Associated General Contractors of America, declared: "I believe that government spending has been and remains one of the major inflationary factors in the country today."

Seventh-Day Adventists Elect Carcich

Elder Theodore Carcich of Seattle, Wash., was named Monday to be the new president of the Central Union Conference of Seventh-Day Adventists. The region includes Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and Missouri.

Elder Carcich was named at a special meeting in Lincoln, to succeed Elder J. D. Smith of Lincoln, who will assume the presidency of the Lake Union Conference at Berrien Springs, Mich.

Elder Carcich, who will establish headquarters in Lincoln, has been president of the Washington Conference.

20 Representatives

About 20 institutional representatives and representatives of the member states attended the meeting.

Serving as counselors were Elders R. R. Figuhr and W. D. Oaks, both of Washington, D. C. Elder Riguhr is president of the General Conference of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church, and Elder Oaks is one of the vice presidents in charge of the North American Division of the church.

Elder Figuhr who serves as world leader of the church, spoke earlier in the day to the student body and staff of Union College, at a convocation held at the College View Seventh-day Adventist Church.

He commended Union College for its large number of former students—716—who have served as missionaries in foreign lands, and emphasized the responsibility of the church to move forward in the preaching of the Gospel to all nations.

Aleutian Isle Ocean Floor Shakes Again

By The Associated Press

The restless ocean floor near the Aleutian Islands was shaken violently twice Monday and continued to tremble from aftershocks, rarely so prolonged or numerous.

But seismologists said the new earthquakes lacked the strength of two which on Saturday sent tidal waves up to nine feet high against the Hawaiian Islands, causing more than a million dollars in damage.

Tidal action Monday remained normal in Hawaii, where Gov. Samuel Wilder King asked the territorial legislature to appropriate $100,000 for relief of areas hit by Saturday's waves.

Damage to public works alone on Kauai Island was estimated at $766,000. In the same area, more than 75 homes were badly damaged or washed out to sea.

Clyde Beers, of the Coast and Geometric Survey seismograph staff at Fairbanks, Alaska, said 128 tremors have been recorded since Saturday from the Aleutians.

"The shocks are being recorded continuously," Beers said.

Mrs. Kauffman, 82, Rites In Falls City

Funeral services for Mrs. Maude Kauffman, 82, a Lincoln resident for 40 years, will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Falls City.

The Rev. J. Dallas Gibson will officiate. Burial will be in the Steele Cemetery in Falls City.

Mrs. Kauffman, who died Sunday, was a member of a pioneer Richardson County family and a native of Falls City.

She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church in Lincoln and a charter member and first treasurer of Temple Chapter 271, OES, Lincoln. She held a 50-year OES pin.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Edward Wertman of Lincoln; sisters, Mrs. E. D. Fisher of Falls City and Mrs. P. C. Hyson of Omaha; and five grandchildren.

Basilica Glitters

VATICAN CITY (AP)—St. Peter's Basilica glitters with red damask and crystal chandeliers for the ceremony that will honor Pope Pius XII Tuesday on the 18th anniversary of his coronation.

About 50,000 people, among them the diplomatic representatives of about 50 nations, will assemble in the world's largest church to honor the 81-year-old pontiff.

BURGLAR GOES 'FISHING'—HAULS IN 2 PURSES FOR ABOUT $120

A burglar "got a line" on two purses at the Glenn Straight residence, 4426 Calvert, and escaped with the purses and about $120.

Police reported that a burglar placed a ladder against the back of the Straight home while the family was entertaining guests and climbed up to an unlocked rear window. The sports-minded thief apparently then took a 10-foot bamboo fishing pole, hooked the purses and hauled them in. The pole was found leaning against the house near the ladder.

Mrs. R. A. Johnson of 5116 Prescott reported her purse contained about $120. Mrs. E. E. Cadwallader of 3402 So. 46th was luckier—she had only about 25 cents in her missing purse. The purses themselves were valued at about $25.

Police believe an unknown youth who came to the house earlier in the evening and was allowed to use the telephone might be responsible.

Corny Coaches, Clumsy Colonels To Play Tonight

LAFB Airmen To Benefit Most From Contest

The Corny Coaches meet the Clumsy Colonels at the Coliseum Tuesday night at 8 p.m., with the Airmen of the Lincoln Air Force Base slated to benefit the most.

All proceeds from the contest, which pits University of Nebraska coaches against the high brass from LAFB, will be given to the local service clubs which are sponsoring a drive to furnish the barracks' day rooms at the base.

About all the participants will gain—aside from the fun (?)—will be some aching muscles.

Early odds favor the NU coaching staff because of one important item. They have not practiced.

The Colonels have practiced daily and the result has been that two starters won't see action. Col. Howard Johns is out with a dislocated knee, while Col. Jack Carey is on crutches for six weeks.

He broke a leg posing for pictures.

A tremendous halftime show has been lined up in addition to the basketball game. The SAC band from Offutt AFB in Omaha, and the SAC chorus, will be on hand, while several solo acts are also on the program.

Coaches for the respective teams are:

Clumsy Colonels—Miss Potef. Corny Coaches—Sen. Harry Pizer.

Officials will be Lincoln sports-writers Don Bryant and Dick Becker, both of whom have agreed to read the rules before Tuesday night.

Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for Airmen and students, with all proceeds going to the "Day Room Fund."

CITY OK'S $4,500 FOR NEW LIGHTS AT SHERMAN FIELD

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

One of the most important improvement projects for Sherman Field may be completed before the 1957 Western League season opens, April 26th.

Modernization of the lighting system and removal of light poles from the playing field were assured Monday when the Lincoln City Council approved an expenditure of $4,500 for the project.

In addition, the Council agreed to consider another $2,500 in September when the new year's budget is adopted.

Both amounts are contingent upon the Lincoln Civic Baseball Association supplying the remainder of the needed funds to complete the work.

It is estimated the cost of the project will be just under $9,000.

Informed of the Council's action, General Manager Dick Wagner said:

"This is wonderful news and the Lincoln Chiefs are grateful to the city for its interest in baseball."

"Now Lincoln can have a park of Class A caliber to go with its Class A players. Only two or three lower class clubs have antique lighting systems like the one at Sherman Field, but now our park will be among the best in Class A."

Wagner said work on the project would begin immediately and "we hope to have the job done by opening day."

Vaulx Risser, a member of the Chiefs' board of directors and chairman of the Sherman Field maintenance committee, said:

"This is great. The players and fans will benefit tremendously from this improvement. It's something we've needed for a long time."

The project calls for removal of the light poles from the field and the installation of modern enclosed lights atop the new poles.

There will be no wires over the playing area as in the past, thus eliminating the danger to players and fans.

Bleachers will be moved nearer the playing field—one set has already been moved—and the new lights will be installed at the ends of the bleachers, behind the barricades.

Poles on the playing field have long been objected to by the Pittsburgh Pirates, with whom the Chiefs have a working agreement, because of the danger to players who might run into them.

The poles on the field have also hampered fans' vision, but now they'll have a clear view of the action.

Lincoln is one of the few cities in organized baseball which still has the old-style open reflector-type lights. The new project calls for banks of the enclosed bulbs.

Last summer two new steel towers were installed on the grandstand roof and they were topped with the enclosed lights, the same as those which will light the outfield this year.

The Lincoln Civic Baseball Association, which will supply the remaining funds, is the organization licensed by the city to supervise the leasing of Sherman Field.

The Lincoln Baseball Club (Chiefs) leases Sherman Field from the LCBA.

Canadians Sign Furey

CALGARY (AP)—The Calgary Stampede announced the signing of Jim Furey, 23-year-old center from Kansas State University and the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League. He is the seventh import signed by the club.

JOHN YOVICSIN

Yovicsin New Harvard Grid Pilot

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Harvard University ended a nationwide quest for a football coach Monday by naming John M. Yovicsin of Gettysburg College to direct its gridiron destinies.

The 38-year-old former star athlete at Gettysburg had a 32-11 record for the past five years as head football coach at his alma mater.

He succeeds Lloyd P. Jordan who was ousted earlier this year after the Crimson had a disappointing season of two victories in eight games.

Jordan, who came to Harvard from Amherst College, had a 24-31 record in his seven years here.

Yovicsin (pronounced Yah'-vis-sin) did a turn of professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles and is expected to ditch the single and double wing attack long in use at Harvard and install a straight T-formation offense coupled with a rugged defense.

Yovicsin bears the stamp of approval of Dick Harlow, former Harvard coach, and was quickly approved Monday morning at a brief meeting of the Harvard board of overseers.

Following Harvard policy the length of his contract was not disclosed, nor was his salary—believed to be in the vicinity of $10,000.

Yovicsin said at Gettysburg he was "thrilled and very happy" for the chance to coach the Crimson. Frankly, saying an Ivy League coaching job had always been his ambition, Yovicsin said "I am glad it is to be at Harvard."

Yovicsin was graduated from Gettysburg in 1940 and received his master's degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

He took up high school coaching after his playing days were over, serving at Valley Forge, Harrisburg and Middletown in Pennsylvania and Glassboro, N.J., before joining the coaching staff at Gettysburg in 1948. He was assistant football coach for four years and then became head coach.

A native of Steelton, Pa., Yovicsin is married and the father of four children, three sons and a daughter. He will be Harvard's 22nd football coach.

Others who had been mentioned as possible choices were Dave Nelson, coach and athletic director at Delaware; George Lynn, coach at Stanford; Phil Cutchin, Texas A&M end coach, and Harvard backfield aide Josh Williams.

COLORADO TOPPLES SOONERS

Bufs Gain Tie For 4th With NU

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Colorado staved off a late flurry to hand Oklahoma a 62-61 defeat here Monday night in the Big Seven Conference season finale. The defeat left Oklahoma in the league cellar for the third straight year.

Colorado's victory enabled the Bufs to tie Nebraska for fourth place in the loop.

The Sooners led only once, and then briefly, in their battle to pull into fifth place tie with the Bufs and Missouri.

Colorado took an 11-4 lead, watched it dwindle to a one-point deficit when Don Schwall hit two

NU Gridders Drill Despite Wind, Dust

Bill Jennings' Nebraska footballers braved a strong wind and clouds of dust Monday afternoon to get in their fourth practice of the spring session.

Most of the practice was devoted to offensive and defensive group work. There was also some concentration of passing and pass defense, although the wind made throwing difficult.

The session wound up with about a half hour of scrimmage and Jennings continued to shuffle his personnel.

"We don't have any teams yet," the Husker coach said. "We're still screening the players to see who can do what job the best."

Jennings said a "semi-game" scrimmage was planned Wednesday afternoon, weather permitting.

"All of the practice won't be devoted to the scrimmage," he said. "But we hope to have as near a game-condition scrimmage as possible."

Three Huskers were still on the flu list Monday, Stu Hoerter of Omaha, Don Kampe of Red Oak, Ia., and Mal Dohrman of Kearney.

DIBIASE DECISIONS GIONAVELLI

NEW YORK (AP)—Rugged Tony DiBiase, fighting his way through college, ran his unbeaten streak to 19 Monday night by thumping out a unanimous decision over Danny Giovannelli in an all-New York 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena. DiBiase weighed 148, Giovannelli 150.

The 21-year-old NYU geology student got off fast with a solid head and body attack and kept pouring on the pressure. Hurt in the first round, Giovannelli, 24, never could catch up to the aggressive youngster.

Referee Petey Scalzo and Judge Le Birnbaum each had it 6-5-1 for DiBiase, Judge Al Singer, the former lightweight champion, scored it 8-2 for DiBiase, the same as the AP.

Tony, a 5-8 husky, gave his rangy 5-11 rival a terrific shelling in the first two minutes, scoring with stiff left hooks, hard rights and frequent combinations.

Although Tony was cut over the left eye in the first round and the gash widened to an inch long at the end, Tony kept going forward through most of the bout.

Two rights to the jaw in the second round buckled Giovannelli's knees and he almost fell. That was the closest Tony came to scoring a knock-down.

Yanks Hold Bosox To 3 Safe Blows; Win By 2-0

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP)—Three Yankee pitchers held the Boston Red Sox to three hits as the New York world champions scored a 2-0 victory before 4,417 fans Monday at Payne Park.

Ralph Terry held Boston hitless in the first four innings. Tom Sturdivant gave up three singles in three innings before Jack Urban finished up with a pair of hitless innings.

The Yankees squeezed out a run off Bob Porterfield in the first on a single by Hank Bauer, who moved to second base on Enos Slaughter's ground out. Mickey Mantle dragged a bunt past the mound for a hit, sending Slaughter to third and he scored on Yogi Berra's sacrifice fly.

New York added another against rookie lefthander Ted Wills in the fifth on a double by Gerry Coleman who went to third on Tom Carroll's short single to left. Coleman scored as Bob Martyn grounded out.

Boston didn't get a hit until

Faye Throneberry, pinch-hitting in the sixth, singled to left.

It was the third straight victory for the Pirates, who have not been defeated since opening the Grapefruit season last Saturday.

Garden Games Tonight Start NCAA Action

The Associated Press
Two members of the 1957 All-America basketball team, the nation's only undefeated college squad and three other conference champions will go on display in Madison Square Garden tonight in the first-round showpiece of the 19th National Collegiate basketball championship.

The New York tripleheader is the biggest and—off the season records—the best show of the preliminary round of the NCAA major college tournament. Three other games are scheduled tonight at two other locations.

In all, 23 teams qualified for this year's NCAA tournament, most of them by winning conference championships. Nine dweybs through the first round and tonight's action will whittle the field to 16 teams for four regional tournaments next Friday and Saturday. Then the four survivors will go to Kansas City for the semifinals and finals March 22-23.

Tabori Claims Injury Kept Him Out Of Milwaukee Games

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Mihaly Igloi, coach of Hungarian distance runner Laszlo Tabori, Monday stood pat on his decision which kept the Olympic star from competing or attending the Milwaukee Journal Games last Saturday.

Igloi's remarks came in answer to a charge by Milwaukee sports writer Iver Kuechle that Tabori was a "pampered child" and "had better change some of his ways of thinking."

Igloi said Tabori had an injured leg and had he attended the games might have been in the position of being unable to finish the indoor track season.

Tabori has been training at the University of North Carolina. Igloi's statement got backing from North Carolina Track Coach Dale Ranson who said Kuechle's remarks were uncalled for and that Kuechle had been notified of the injury and the fact that Tabori and Igloi were anxious to appear in Milwaukee when Tabori has recovered.

Igloi also released the text of a telegram to Kuechle he and Ranson sent last Thursday informing him of Tabori's injury and the need to stay in Chapel Hill for treatment.

"They were pointing for this one," Ranson said, "and it was a bitter blow to them when the injury cropped up. Now Kuechle calls him a pampered child, saying that he could have at least made a token appearance even if he could not run."

"What Kuechle is overlooking is the fact that Tabori is undergoing daily treatment here that should heal the injury in time for him to run at Chicago and Cleveland meets the next two week ends," Igloi commented.

"Had we interrupted the treatment for the three-day trip just to watch the meet and take a bow, it would have made it almost impossible to run in any more meets this season," Igloi said.

"They offered treatment facilities at a nearby university," Ranson commented, "but you know that you are not going to get anything accomplished while traveling. Why the plane schedules themselves absorbed a day to fly out and another to return."

Kuechle had charged that Tabori was ignoring a responsibility to the meet after accepting a Journal contribution of $500 "through the National AAU as a contribution for his living and training expenses in this country."

Lightweight Champ Meets Savoie Tonight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Joe Brown, world's lightweight champion, meets Armand Savoie of Montreal here tonight in a 10-round non-title fight.

Brown boxed four rounds with Sammy Rodgers in a final workout Sunday. Both Brown and Savoie are expected to weigh 136.

L.A. Officials Select 'Super Stadium' Site

LOS ANGELES (AP)—City and county officials, swinging into high gear in their drive to bring the Brooklyn Dodgers to Los Angeles, have decided on a site for a "super stadium" seating 85,000, it was announced Monday.

Supervisor Kenneth Hahn, one of the group that flew to Florida last week to confer with Dodger President Walter O'Malley, said the park is all set for Chavez Ravine, an undeveloped section about a mile from city hall where the city owns 200 acres.

"Of course, the final decision will be up to O'Malley, who will be out here this spring," Hahn said.

Hahn would not disclose plans for financing construction of the park, which he said would cost about nine million dollars.

Fencing A Brawl?

University of Nebraska coach John Giele says that fencing during the 15th century was much like a modern barroom brawl.

Here he demonstrates present-day fencing style with Jim Rog-

Tar Heels Tops In Final Poll

KU Holds Second AP Spot

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

The North Carolina Tar Heels, unbeaten in 27 games, Monday broke the two-year hold of the San Francisco Dons by finishing in first place by an overwhelming margin in the final Associated Press college basketball poll of the 1956-1957 campaign.

The Tar Heels, winners of the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament last week, were given the No. 1 distinction by 55 of the 76 sports writers and broadcasters who participated in the final vote.

On the usual basis of 10 points for first place, nine for second, etc., North Carolina received 725 points. Kansas was second with 602 points followed by Kentucky with 479, Southern Methodist with 437 and Seattle, 302.

San Francisco was the top club in 1955 and 1956. Since the poll's inception in 1949, Kentucky wound up in first place four times and Bradley and Indiana once each.

North Carolina was in 13th place in the final balloting last season. This year, the Tar Heels were sixth in the first poll on Dec. 10, moved up to third the following week and remained in the runner-up spot behind Kansas from Dec. 25 to Jan. 21. When the Jayhawks lost their first game to Iowa State, North Carolina moved into the No. 1 position and held it for the last eight weeks.

In the final voting, West Virginia and St. Louis moved into the top 10 replacing Michigan State and UCLA.

West Virginia, which nailed down an NCAA berth by winning the Southern Conference tournament, jumped into seventh place from 11th a week ago. St. Louis, the Missouri Valley champion, climbed to 10th. The Billikens were 12th last week.

Michigan State, which lost to Michigan last Monday night, wound up in 11th place. The Spartans finished in a deadlock with Indiana for the Big Ten title.

Nebraska Folds Coach:

Historical Fencers Resembled Barroom Brawlers

Fencing in the 15th Century was no more refined than a barroom brawl, despite what Hollywood tries to make one believe. So says John Giele, a University of Nebraska doctor of philosophy candidate who is one of two certified amateur fencing coaches in the U.S. today.

He said it wasn't uncommon for fencers in historical days to use their feet, fists, and teeth more than their swords. Many fencers had their noses bitten off in close combat, Giele reported.

Winner of nearly all the state and sectional fencing championships held in the past four years, Giele is coach of the University of Nebraska's fencing team.

In fencing matches today, he explained, a match involving five touches may last less than two minutes. "Because of this speed, fencing is not especially a spectator's sport."

But fencing is gaining ground in popularity. Nebraska alone has eight different fencing clubs, including the University's. Fremont, Peru, and Seward each has a club, as do the Lincoln and Omaha Air Force Bases. Omaha has two clubs.

After an intensive study, the Air Force found that fencing proved the best of all sports for developing in jet pilots fast reaction, the use of strategy, and the psychology of combat.

Because a single blow may prove fatal, Giele said, fencing combatants, unlike those in boxing, can not take a blow to deliver a blow. This has its parallel in jet-to-jet air battles, he pointed out.

Fencing, too, is one sport which has lost all of its frills through the ages. "The techniques which worked were kept and those that failed were discarded because fencing was a deadly art."

To the 38-year-old University student of sociology, fencing is merely a relaxation, one which has kept him "quick of wit and limbs" for the past 25 years.

Iowa Pair Team Up For ABC Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Gibby Jacobs and Eugene Chelf of Durant, Iowa, collaborated for a 1,221 score and first place in the doubles standings of the American Bowling Congress tournament Monday.

They had games of 463, 351 and 407. Jacobs totaled 606 and Chelf 615.

Jacobs picked a 10 pin in the tenth frame of the third game to pull the team into the lead.

"Everybody says the sponsor can't bowl, so I had to show these guys I could," he said. Jacobs, 49, is sponsor of the Wilton Elevator Co. team, which clicked off 1,036, the best single team game of the tournament thus far.

Sponsors of bowling teams are usually included because they contribute the funds, not bowling ability.

Ernest Druebert of Seguin, Tex., shot the best series in his 17 years of bowling and moved into second in the singles standing. He rolled 649.

Jacobs and Chelf replaced Herman Muesing and Glen Vaughn of Fort Wayne, Ind., who shot a 1,214 Sunday.

Ken Ludiker of Tulsa shot 1,812 for the nine-game all-events course to take third in that division.

Vaughn still tops the all-events standings with 1,821.

Ed Gehring of Victoria, Tex., took over the No. 2 spot in the all-events division as he rolled 1,813.

CONFUSION PREVAILS AS LINCOLN BOWLERS CUT-UP

Capital City bowlers in the recent National B'nai B'rith tournament in Omaha proceeded to upset the apple cart in a couple of departments.

In the tourney which included 176 teams, including 124 from out of state, one bowler with a relatively low average surprised and finished third.

Lincolnite Bob Jacobs, who carries a 131 average this season, came up with a 660 singles score to bring home the third place trophy.

But the best prize of them all was also brought home by a Lincoln kiegler. This fellow was a little confused as to the rules of the tourney and forgot to bring his bowling ball.

Determined to play anyway he borrowed one from Kelley's Hill.

Laker Supporters Produce $139,000

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Minneapolis investors produced $139,000 Monday toward a minimum goal of $150,000 required to keep the Minneapolis Lakers' National Basketball Assn. franchise in the city.

Still two days away from the deadline fixed by present owners Ben Berger and Morris Chalfen, a local businessmen's group expressed confidence it would hit $200,000. The additional money is intended to defray initial operating expenses.

If the week-old campaign reaches $150,000, it sounds the death knell of a bid by former baseball star Marty Marion and business partner Milton Fischmann to have the club transferred to Kansas City.

Berger and Chalfen provisionally "sold" the franchise to the Marion-Fischmann partnership two weeks ago. The deal was made with the understanding, however, that Minneapolis investors had first claim on the club if they matched the $150,000 asking price.

A spokesman for the Minneapolis group said $200,000 should be in hand by today.

Checks and cash totaling $139,000 were turned over Monday to Francis Ryan, Minneapolis attorney acting as trustee for the prospective corporation.

Berger has been majority owner of the Lakers since the club's entrance in Minneapolis 10 years ago. He said three weeks ago he is pulling out because of heavy financial losses during the last two years.

Idaho State Wins; Gets NCAA Spot

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Idaho State grabbed a berth in the Western Regional NCAA basketball playoffs with a 62-57 victory over Hardin-Simmons Monday night.

Lanky forward Gail Sieman, returning from two weeks of inaction following a leg operation, provided the spark for the Idahoans with 21 points and 21 rebounds. But his scoring was second to teammate Jerry Hicks, who collected 23 points.

Idaho State will meet San Francisco in the regional meet at Corvallis, Ore., Friday night.

The Bengals trailed the Border Conference Cowboys most of the first half, but took a 32-30 lead at the intermission and expanded it the rest of the way.

Hardin-Simmons made one last bid, pulling within 6 points, at 57-51, with five minutes to go but six straight points by Hicks settled the issue.

Greaves Named To Battle Spider Webb

CHICAGO (AP)—Wilf Greaves of Pittsburgh Monday was named as a substitute fighter for a televised match Wednesday at Chicago Stadium against the No. 4 ranking middleweight, Spider Webb.

Greaves, who lost a split decision to champion Gene Fullmer at Salt Lake City last January, will replace Randy Sandy of New York, who injured his left hand Sunday in training.

Layne Signs 2-Year Pact As Lions' Pilot

DALLAS (AP)—Bobby Layne, quarterback of the Detroit professional football Lions, signed a contract for approximately $20,000 Monday to play two more years for the team.

Layne said he thought the Lions, nosed out by the Chicago Bears last year for the Western Division championship, would be back on top this fall.

Aaron Says He'll Lead NL Again

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—Hank Aaron, a batting champ at 23, thinks he had a good chance to retain his National League title with Bill Virdon of Pittsburgh, Richie Ashburn of Philadelphia and Willie Mays of New York as his toughest contenders.

The Milwaukee outfielder led the league with 328 last season, beating Virdon by nine points although he was hitting only .167 at the end of the first month.

"I think Virdon, Ashburn and Willie will be the toughest to beat," he said in the Braves' clubhouse at spring training headquarters. "And you always have to watch out for Stan Musial, although he may be getting a little old. We have some pretty good hitters in our league and winning again could be real rough. But I don't think it could be any tougher than the first time. I think I have a good chance."

Aaron prefers to face the better pitchers in the league rather than the unknowns who crop up from the minors in the early weeks and the final days of the season. Last year he saw only the best down the stretch with Milwaukee fighting for the pennant.

"I'd rather face the pitcher I know something about," he said. "Like when we go to St. Louis. I know what Wehmeier (Herm) and Mizell (Wilmer) are liable to throw. When those new fellows come up you don't know what to expect."

Like several other hitters in the National League, Aaron singled out Bob Friend of Pittsburgh as the toughest for him to hit. "I get my share of hits off him," he said. "But he throws that good sinker in on the fists."

Aaron said Robin Roberts of the Phils always had given him trouble. Likewise Curt Simmons of the same club. Of Sal Maglie, he said, "I had better luck against him when he was with the Giants than at Brooklyn."

'ROME TO STAGE BEST GAMES YET'

ROME (AP)—The 1960 Olympic Games, to be staged here in the Italian capital, "will be the biggest and the best yet," Olympic International Committee Chancellor Otto Mayer said Monday.

"They just can't fail to be the most attractive games ever staged in the modern series," he told a press conference.

"We shall have almost twice as many athletes as in the Melbourne Games—and perhaps four times as many visitors."

Mayer said the Rome Games will be the last to be held in the present form. "After 1960 we must get down to some severe trimming," he said. "The present calendar is a little unwieldy and not always as interesting as it might be."

Mayer disclosed that the Rome Games will set a new pattern, starting with the smaller events and building up to a grand climax in the last few days.

"This is to avoid the falling off in attendance which has been noticed at the last two games," he said.

"We'll start the first week off with the swimming events, then warm up to the track and field races in the last week, with the marathon event on the evening of the final day."

The Games are scheduled from Aug. 25 to Sept. 11.

Mayer said 6,300 athletes are expected to take part in the Rome Olympics, compared with 3,700 at Melbourne last year and 5,700 at Helsinki in 1952.

"As for visitors," he said. "We are hoping for something like 150,000—or even considerably more if the world situation eases."

Major outstanding problems of the 1960 Games will be discussed in detail at the next meeting of the international committee, to be held at Sofia, Bulgaria, in September, he said.

Problems to be discussed there include "the exact definition of amateur status," revision of the Olympic program and television and film arrangements.

Wayne To Begin NAIA Play Today

KANSAS CITY — Wayne State Teachers College, champion of the Nebraska College Conference and the District 11 playoff winner, opens its play in the national NAIA basketball tournament today.

The Wildcats take on Stetson University of Florida in a first round game starting at 11 a.m.

The game starts the second day of action in the 32-team six day cage marathon which saw its opening round of eight games played Monday.

Western League Umpires Listed

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—A veteran staff of umpires will work the Class A Western Baseball League this season, O. M. Hobbs, league president, announced Monday.

One newcomer to the nine-man staff is Thomas J. Dunn of Calgary, Canada. He worked last season in the Class C Pioneer League.

Danny O'Toole of Cincinnati, who joined the Western League staff in 1952, heads the list.

Others are John Petrock, Somerville, N. J.; May Stone, Chicago; John Schulte, Normandy, Mo.; Eugene M. Haack, Waterloo, Iowa; James Dimas, Jamestown, N. Y.; Jack C. Wagner, Lewisburg, Pa., and Richard Gustavo, Millford, Mass.

Hobbs said the league has optioned umpire Stan Martowski of Ludlow, Mass., to the Pioneer League.

Spanish Ring Champ Whips Italian

BOLOGNA, Italy (AP)—Spanish heavyweight champion Joe Gonzales Monday night defeated Italy's Franco Cavicchi when the big Italian failed to answer the bell for the seventh round of a scheduled 10-rounder. Cavicchi, former European champion, weighed 205½, Gonzales 190½.

Ogallala Indians' Record Spotty But Team Could Grab A Title

Here are background stories on the Class A and Class C teams in the State High School Basketball Tournament.

Play in Classes A and C begins Friday. The four teams in the A division are Columbus, Lexington, Omaha Holy Name and Ogallala; Alma, Arnold, Waverly and Oakland are the Class C teams.

Ogallala

Coach—Joe Folsom. Nickname—Indians. Record—14-4.

Ogallala, runner-up to champion Omaha Holy Name two years ago, is back with a team that could be capable of winning.

Ogallala got off to a bad start, losing three in a row. The Indians then won eight straight before losing to Holdrege, and have since won six in a row.

Nelson Hinkle is the team leader and the Indians have had some good performances from junior Harry Boss. There are no real shortages on the squad but there is no big men. Ogallala squeezed through the sub-district at Sidney, then beat McCook in the finals at Ogallala. The record:

| | | | | | |
|----|------------|----|-----|-----------|----|
| 47 | Chappell | 58 | 57 | Sidney | 33 |
| 55 | Cozad | 68 | 70 | Curtis | 54 |

| 52 | Kimball | 41 | x53 | Gering | 50 |
| 73 | Gering | 43 | x44 | McCook | 35 |

Lexington

Coach—Merle Applebee. Nickname—Minutemen. Record—13-6.

Lexington, an up-and-downer during most of the season, caught fire at the tag end to win six in a row including three in the tough York district tournament.

This team has one of the best two-man scoring and rebounding combinations going in Tom Sheldon (6-4) and Monte Kiffin (6-2 and a husky 190 pounds). The club plays a slow-down game most of the time but can change the pattern and move. The Lexington record:

| | | | | | |
|----|--------------|----|-----|------------|----|
| 53 | Broken Bow | 45 | 68 | (ot) York | 67 |
| 41 | Grand Island | 59 | 58 | Curtis | 41 |

Columbus

Coach—Dale Toff. Nickname—Discoverers. Record—13-6.

Columbus's record of six losses belies the strength of this team. Five of the six defeats were at the hands of strong Class AA teams—Fremont (twice), Northeast, Grand Island and Hastings.

After losing to York 44-46 in the season opener, the Discoverers have not lost to a Class A foe. The big reason for Columbus success is 6-5 center LeRoy Hulsebus, the Big Ten individual scoring champ. The Columbus record:

O. Holy Name

Coach—Bob Gates. Nickname—Ramblers. Record—16-3.

Holy Name, bidding for the A championship for the third straight year, has a classy won-lost mark but has played some weak opposition.

Last year Holy Name pushed champion into Falls City into overtime. Jim Daley, the star of that club, transferred to Omaha Benson but Bob Eickholt and Jim Markey are back to lead the Rambler scoring. The record:

Alma

Coach—Harry Dowell. Nickname—Cardinals. Record—22-1.

This team was the pacesetter in the early Class C ratings but had a 13-game win streak broken by Hastings St. Cecilia, 67-51.

The Cards started another string and have won nine in a row. They were gunning for revenge against St. Cecilia in the playoffs but didn't get a chance for it. Trenton ousted St. Cecilia, and then Alma whipped Trenton 69-52 to gain a State Tourney berth.

Lanny Andres and Larry Parker

are the leaders of this high-scoring team. The record:

Arnold

Coach—Darrel Lloyd. Nickname—Cardinals. Record—22-2.

Darrel Lloyd's first year at the helm was a successful one, as the Cards lost only two and won the Custer County Tournament.

Arnold bowed to good Hildreth and Stapleton teams in the regular season, then beat undefeated Arcadia in t's district finals and took out Hay Springs and Cedar Rapids in the playoffs.

Noel Olin, John Hardin and Lane McClure are the top scorers. The record:

Oakland

Coach Clarence Goracke. Nickname—Vikings. Record 17-4.

Oakland wasn't quite able to crack the Top Ten during the regular-season ratings but had a good 12-4 record. The Vikings were almost knocked out of the tourney running early—they scrambled to beat Decatur 49-48 in the first round of the district and had little trouble thereafter.

There are five Johnsons on the Oakland roster—Jim, Melvin, Nile, Warren and Ray; two Nelsons, Lyle and Bill; and two Martins, Paul and Bill. The record:

How come the new Ford rides so smooth and solid?

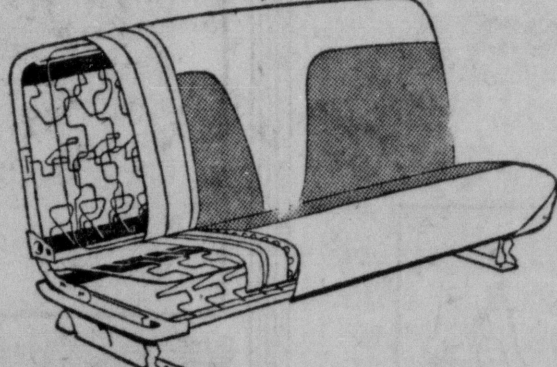

It's the new inner Ford that gives you a big-car ride at low Ford prices

Folks just naturally love a Ford's longer, lower, sleeker silhouette. And they love Ford's new, more powerful Thunderbird V-8's and Mileage Maker Six. But the thing that's really got 'em buzzing is Ford's new kind of ride. The way a car rides depends on many engineering features all working together. In the new kind of Ford these vital riding features team up to give you the smoothest going in the whole ride world. They're demonstrated below.

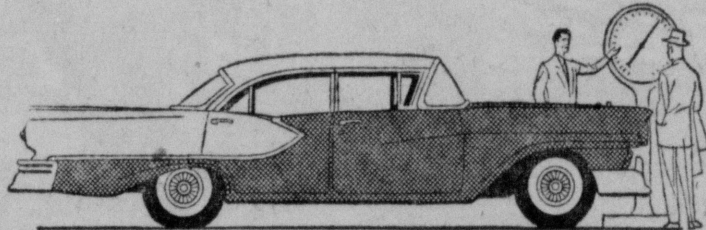

New automatic variable-rate rear springs

Going from a highway to a byway in a Ford, is like going from satin to silk. New design allows Ford's rear springs to "soften" or "stiffen" depending on road conditions. You get a smooth ride all the way!

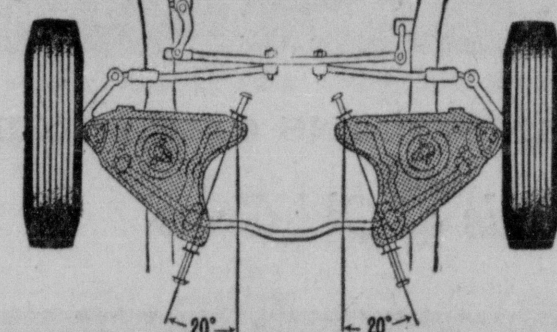

More comfortable seating

There's no sag when you sit in a Ford... even on long trips. Comfort-contoured seats, rigidly anchored, have advanced springing for greater comfort and longer life.

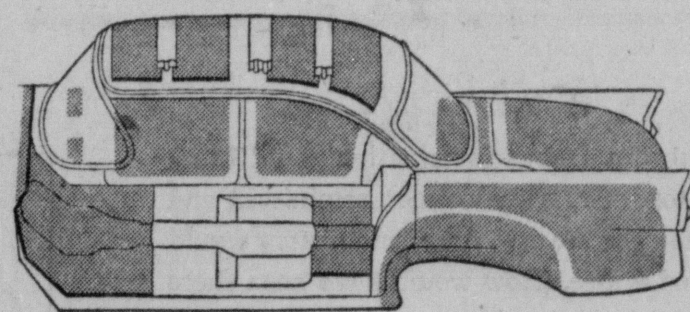

More weight and length

Head for the roughest road in the new kind of Ford. Notice how the biggest bumps lose their "thump"! One reason is that this biggest, longest, heaviest Ford has the extra "beef" to give a smooth, road-hugging ride.

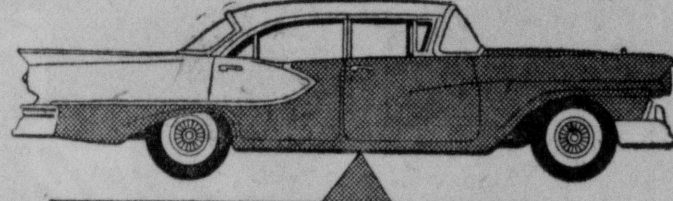

New swept-back Ball-Joint front suspension

Ford's new, stronger front suspension is designed to soak up the shock of rough roads. The new swept-back design lets wheels "roll" with the bump and absorb it going away... for far smoother, steadier sailing.

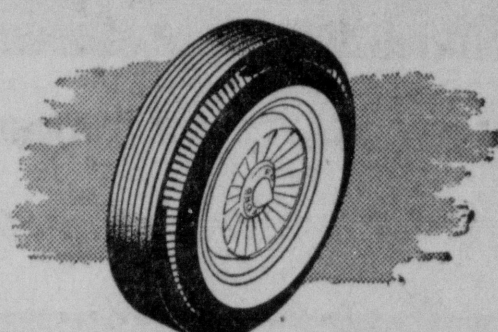

More body insulation

Ford has more body insulation—protection against weather, dust, and noise—than any car in the low-price field. You ride through noisiest traffic in library-like quiet.

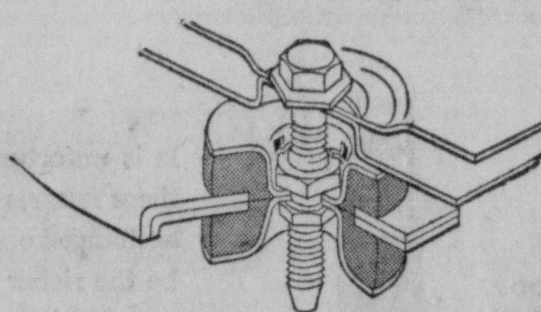

Better balance

One of Ford's nicest back-road habits is to make believe the rough spots aren't there. Proper weight distribution and precise balancing let Ford iron out bumps far better than many of the higher-priced cars.

New lower-pressure tires

Even Ford's tires are new for a better ride! Although they require less air pressure, they hold about 17% more air for cushioning the car. This means a softer ride—without sacrifice of Ford's good handling characteristics.

No metal-to-metal chassis and body contact

Only Ford in its field uses 20 Cushion Quiet rubber body mounts... more than any other low-priced car. It all adds up to a smoother, quieter riding car.

Try the new kind of ride in the new kind of

County Hospital Establishing Eased Under Bill Advanced By Committee

The Legislature's Government Committee Monday unanimously approved a bill designed to make it easier for some of Nebraska's counties to establish county hospitals.

Advanced to general file by a 6-0 vote was LB 585, introduced recently by the Public Health Committee.

Representatives of the community of Basset, faced with loss of their present hospital, made the principal appearance for the bill.

Present law provides a county must have 3,600 population to establish a county hospital, poorhouse, indigent hospital or home for aged.

Valuation Considered
The proposed law would qualify a county if it has 10 million dollars or more of assessed valuation. The bill also would permit two or more counties to join to meet the requirements.

Opponents of LB 585 sought unsuccessfully to amend the bill so that counties meeting the requirements could only establish a "rural health center," rather than a hospital. Such center would consist largely of physicians' offices and some diagnostic and emergency facilities.

An impassioned plea by Sen. Frank Nelson of O'Neill to give his constituents in the Basset community a chance to "help themselves" by undertaking the hospital project at their own expense closed nearly two hours of testimony-taking.

Temporary Permit
The present Basset hospital is operating under a temporary permit of the State Health Department after being held inadequate for continued regular licensure.

Verne Pangborn, state hospital director, said investigation had disclosed the community to be "essentially sound." The temporary permit has been granted while the community fights "tooth and toenail" to replace the facilities, he said.

Appearing for LB 585, in addition to Sen. Nelson, were Emory

Opponents, all hospital officials, included Donald W. Duncan of Lincoln, Sister Mary Daniel of West Point, Floyd Grady of Cozad, Leo Bolin of Sidney, James Cannady of Omaha and Herbert Anderson of Lincoln.

They contended personnel are lacking to staff more hospitals; that small hospitals are uneconomic and cannot provide the high type service desired.

Sen. Nelson questioned opponents on whether their opposition stemmed from a fear that new hospitals would take away Hill-Burton federal aid money which otherwise might go to established hospitals.

Plane Wreckage Seen In Colombia

CALI, Colombia (AP)—Wreckage of a plane carrying 12 passengers and a crew of three was sighted from the air in the mountains of western Colombia Monday. The plane had been missing since Saturday. Search pilots did not say if any signs of life were observed.

Two Americans and two Canadians were aboard the plane. Those from the United States were Vincent White, vice president of the Compania Minero Choco Pacifico, and a geologist listed variously as John Van Denbeenter, Johan Van Denbeenter and Johan Van Denbeenter.

A magnetic field or radioactive ore in the mountains may have caused the accident, search pilots said. They reported that radio compasses swerved as much as 180 degrees off normal over the mountains.

Bill Aimed At Shoplifters Heard, Held

A measure which proponents claim would cut shoplifting incidents in Nebraska by at least 50 per cent, Monday was heard but held by the Legislature's Judiciary Committee.

LB 135, introduced by Sens. Arnold Ruhnke of Plymouth and Donald McGinley of Ogallala, provides for immunity from criminal or civil liability of peace officers, merchants and merchants' employees for taking in custody suspected shoplifters.

Robert Denny, Fairbury attorney, contended that under current laws, suspected shoplifters cannot be arrested unless there is actual proof that a crime has been committed.

Police, Business Witnesses
Appearing in favor of the measure were several police and business representatives including Lincoln Police Chief Joe Carroll and George Wruck, representing the Associated Retailers of Omaha.

Also heard but held by the Judiciary Committee Monday were six other bills. They were:

LB 239—Which makes the district school board responsible for damages, claims and charges against school employees while on duty.

LB 322—Makes it a misdemeanor to falsify impersonate any law enforcement officer, and a felony to obtain anything of value while impersonating.

LB 419—Provides for venue in criminal cases when crime takes place in two or more counties.

LB 571—Provides that two or more offenses may be charged in the same indictment.

Hayes County Oil Lease Sales OKd

The Board of Educational Lands and Funds Monday approved the sale of $12,808 worth of oil and gas leases in Hayes County.

The 17 leases represented the largest offering of its kind the board has made in Hayes County, and the greatest number of leases sold at one sale for several months, according to Elmer Mahlin, board secretary.

The board approved investment of $100,000 of permanent school funds in U.S. government securities returning 3.29 per cent.

Other business saw the board approve 15 leased assignments in 13 counties, 21 sublease agreements in 13 counties, and two oil and gas leases in Red Willow County, auctioned Feb. 22.

HOW MANY OF THESE FAMOUS AMERICANS CAN YOU IDENTIFY?*
... all were friends of Old Crow

Enjoy the famous whiskey of famous men

It is unfortunate that only an artist's imagination could bring these famous Americans together. If they'd met, reminisced and exchanged opinions on affairs of the day, American history would be the richer for it. And of course, Crow would have been there — each of these men prized it. Enjoy it yourself in the lighter, milder 86 proof bottling — it's America's most preferred bourbon!

Hastings Man, 71, Badly Hurt In Beating

Authorities Hold Man, 26

HASTINGS, Neb. — Frederick Cannon, 26, is being held in Adams County Jail in connection with a beating and robbery of Edward Bredwell, 71, Hastings, while the elderly man was on duty as the attendant at a Hastings service station.

Cannon is an escaped patient of the Hastings State Hospital having crawled out a window of the security building last July 15.

County Attorney Mel Kammerlohr said charges will be filed against Cannon but not until the condition of Bredwell is determined.

The elderly man suffered severe head and facial lacerations which required 60 stitches.

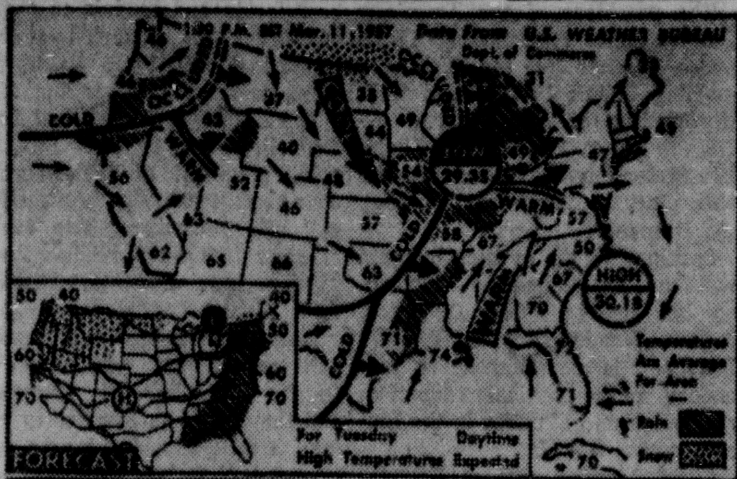

Cannon gave a signed statement to Kammerlohr, Police Chief George Maul and Sheriff Worthy Wood in which he admitted the robbery and beating.

Bredwell had been beaten with glass oil pitchers. Five of them had been broken over his head.

Cannon, a former Colorado convict, was found hiding under a bed at home of a sister in Hastings.

2 Osmond Sisters Suffer Burns In Farm Home Fire

OSMOND, Neb. (AP)—A 14-year-old girl was "doing as well as can be expected" in an Osmond hospital Monday with burns suffered in a fire at her farm home.

Sharon Schneider, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schneider and her 12-year-old sister, Beverly, were all hospitalized. The parents were treated and released. Beverly, though still hospitalized Monday, was less seriously burned than her sister.

Sharon was severely burned about the face and hands.

The two girls had been awakened by the smoke and found flames blocking the stairway to their second floor bedrooms.

Their father, who had come in from milking and discovered the fire, was burned while attempting to rescue the girls.

Cause of the fire was not determined. Osmond firemen extinguished the blaze before it could cause much damage.

How hard do you huff and puff for money?

Here you are, getting up early in the morning, rapidly disposing of breakfast and galloping off to work. What for? To earn a living, of course. And it takes considerable huffing and puffing to earn enough, doesn't it?

Could you use some help? It may be right at your elbow. Or in your pocket. It's that part of your income left over after the bills are paid and family emergencies are provided for. Why don't you turn over in your mind the following five fruitful ideas about how that surplus cash might add to your income:

Idea one: Investment in common stock on the New York Stock Exchange makes you part-owner of the company whose stock you buy. This means that while you work for one company you are part-owner of another. As an owner you may share, through dividends, in the profits it may make. If it grows, the value of your investment may grow along with it. (You don't have to be rich — two out of three share-owners have incomes under $7500 a year.)

Idea two: Investment in bonds means that you become a creditor of the company. Most bonds carry a promise that you will be paid interest, generally at a fixed rate, and at a specified date the company will pay back the amount of the bond.

Idea three: When you invest, use the old noggin. Stock prices go up and down, like the price of practically everything else. A company may not pay dividends and it may not grow. That's why you need the facts about a company — not tips or rumors that may lead you astray.

Idea four: To your circle of people — worth — knowing add a broker in any Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. You'll find him glad to see you and delighted to put his experience to work for you at no cost. Let him advise you about a sensible investment program that fits your circumstances. His job is to help you buy or sell securities.

Idea five: Treat yourself to some fascinating reading in our booklet "INVESTMENT FACTS." It tells you about some 280 stocks on the Exchange that have paid cash dividends every three months from 20 to 92 years, showing their dividends and yields. And it describes how you can own your share of American business by investing as little as $40 every three months — or up to $1000 a month — in the wonderfully convenient Monthly Investment Plan. Ask your broker for a free copy. Or send the coupon. Don't you owe it to yourself to look for ways of adding to your income without any extra huffing and puffing?

'Squeeze' On Home Construction Hit

WASHINGTON (INS)—A spokesman for the nation's homebuilders charged Monday that a government squeeze on home construction threatens to send the entire economy into a tailspin.

George S. Goodyear, president of the National Association of Homebuilders, told a news conference that the Federal Reserve System has "side-stepped" its responsibility to fight inflation.

He said: "I think they're going to be fighting deflation now if they continue to keep money as tight as it is and to keep the home building industry under their thumbs."

"If inflation is as serious as they contend, they should have taken some steps a long time ago to protect the country."

Limit Expansion

Possible measures suggested by Goodyear were a limit on industrial plant expansion, wage controls and high corporate taxes.

Goodyear sharply disagreed with Federal Reserve policy that housing is a postponable item while other construction is expanding.

Factories and highways, he pointed out, do not buy washing machines and television sets to support industries related to construction, which account for 15 per cent of the country's workers and general economy.

Goodyear, a Charlotte, N. C., builder, briefed newsmen on a closed session of some 75 builders on business conditions and proposed legislation.

Super-Tuneup

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP) — Edwards Limpert was acquitted of careless driving when he told a court here his car was working too well. He said a garage had just adjusted the car's sluggish acceleration and he found it more than he could handle when he turned a corner. That, he said, was why he hit two other cars. The garage repairman backed him up.

STAN DELAPLANE'S

POSTCARD

As soon as you leave Mexico City and the tourist route, life gets wonderfully inexpensive. For $2 U. S. I got a taxi for an hour's ride over to San Miguel de Allende. A lovely pink-stone colonial town with a many-spired church rising high above the shady plaza.

"What is the specialty of San Miguel? Serapes? Pottery?"

"Nothing," said the taxi driver. "Here they make nothing. The product typical is American painters."

When the last war ended and Uncle Sugar was in a free educational mood, a number of GI Bill painters came to San Miguel. Today the free load has run out.

6 Named To NU Building Committee

The appointment of a new six-man University of Nebraska building committee, with Dr. A. C. Breckenridge, dean of faculties, as chairman, has been announced by Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin.

Other members: C. A. Donaldson, director of purchasing; Charles Fowler, director of buildings and grounds; Dr. Franklin Eldridge, associate director of resident instruction of the College of Agriculture; Dr. Merle Stoneman, professor of school administration and elementary education; L. B. Smith, professor and chairman of department of architecture.

Dr. Hardin said the committee will be charged with determining the needs of the physical plant for the next decade, including renovation, replacements and repairs.

Better Use He added that an additional duty will be better utilization of the present physical plant. All recommendations are subject to the approval of the Board of Regents.

The chancellor was authorized by the Board of Regents last Jan. 5 to appoint new members to the committee. The Board also terminated the old building committee which was responsible for the past 10-year building program, financed principally by the 1.1 mill institutional building levy, passed by the 1947 Legislature.

The old building committee consisted of Earl S. Fullbrook, dean of College of Business Administration, chairman; R. W. Goss, dean emeritus of the Graduate College; John K. Selleck, business manager and comptroller; Marvel L. Baker, professor of animal husbandry; Fowler, and Smith.

But the Instituto Allende has a wonderful hotel and all the hotel people go to school. In the morning around the old reconstructed palace, you hear the busy beat of hammers on silver.

A number of Americans have retired here. They tell me it costs $200 a month for everything. Including house and servants.

The Instituto gives you a fine room with a balcony and three meals a day for $6.40. This, of course, is first-class living. You can get a fine room on a flowery patio in town at the Posada de San Francisco with meals for $5.60. And guest houses in town go for as little as $4 a day.

At present, the classes (in writing, painting, silverwork, sculpture, design, textiles, ceramics) are attended by rather elderly people. The GI Bill having been exhausted.

The younger students stubbornly maintain a Greenwich Village attitude. The young ladies dressing in sandals and peasant skirts. And the young gentlemen paying homage to Art by raising scraggly beards.

For conversation, you praise Picasso and sneer at any painting in which you can tell what the artist painted. It is a fine self-satisfying life. It is very hard these days to find a place to praise and sneer at such prices.

The town is named for the Allende who fought alongside the great patriot of independence, the country priest Hidalgo.

It is only a few miles from the town of Dolores Hidalgo where the cry of "Independencia y Libertad" gave Mexico its Independence Day on the 16th of September.

Poor Allende and Hidalgo had their heads hung on hooks over at nearby Guanajuato. But they named the towns after them.

This isolation will be ended in a few years. A new superhighway is putting San Miguel within two hours of Mexico City. The highway already is cut through from the Texas border at Piedras Negras to a few miles from here.

But today it is a still, sleepy town quite a few miles off the highway where the tourists breeze past.

A town of silver-toned church bells and pink cantera stone. Of flowers and the thin, bracing air at 6,000 feet. Where there is sun every day and a fire is welcome at night in the big antique fire-places.

A town of Indians kneeling in front of golden altars in the churches of high vaulted ceilings. And witches who stir the future out of Mexican herbs and generation-to-generation folklore.

Until the highway and the packaged tour comes. Anyway.

Oil, Gas Conservation Commission Bill Revival Refused

A bill, killed in committee, which would have established an oil and gas conservation commission in the state, was refused reconsideration Monday by the Nebraska Legislature.

Sen. Monroe Bixler received 16 votes in favor on his motion to override the committee, with 16 voting against. Twenty-two were needed for approval.

The measure, LB 300, had been boomed by proponents as an effort to control waste of the state's oil and gas resources. However, Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff blasted the bill on the floor Monday as "one of the most vicious bills ever introduced in this legislature."

Hour Of Debate

Around an hour of discussion preceded the showdown.

Sen. Bixler said improper drilling and production practices can "greatly hurt oil recovery" in the state. He said some production already has been "ruined" and said it's the State of Nebraska which will gain by proper control of production methods.

Small independent oil companies have attacked the bill as an attempt at "proration," setting production quotas geared to oil demand. But there is no such provision in the bill, Bixler contended. Sen. Carpenter, on the other hand, charged that LB 300 was the brainchild of the "big oil companies" and was offered "under the guise of conservation."

Oil Companies Hit

A member of the Government Committee, which killed the bill on a 4-3 vote, and a co-introducer of the bill, Sen. Carpenter blasted "major oil companies" for what he termed their attempts to get control of oil production in Nebraska. The legislation will "drive every independent oil producer in Nebraska out of business in a period of time," Carpenter predicted.

He said no "need" for the legislation has been shown, and said that if control is to be vested, it should be placed with the state geologist rather than in a commission whose membership, he predicted, would be controlled by major oil firms.

'Foresighted'

Sen. Donald McGinley of Ogallala, chief introducer of LB 300, said he was convinced there have been not many instances of oil and gas waste so far. But he said it would be "only foresighted" to make provisions against waste before it becomes a problem.

In other action in its first assembly of the session's 11th week, the Legislature accepted Sen. Carpenter's amendment to LB 217 and moved to recommit the bill to the Revenue Committee for a new public hearing.

Carpenter's amendment, attached to a routine judiciary bill, would strengthen machinery for collecting diesel fuel taxes in Nebraska, according to the senator.
